BRITISH REPLY TO SEC. HUGHES' SHIP LIQUOR PROPOSAL EXPRESSES GENERAL DISAPPROVAL

U. S. Sought Reciprocal Agreement to Curb Rum-Running—Possibility of Negotiating a Double-Barreled Treaty Left Open by Communication

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The British reply to Secretary Hughes' proposal for a reciprocal agreement on ship liquor and liquor smuggling was received at the state department today and was described by officials as "in general, not sympathetic to the proposals." The British government plans, however, to present the question to the British imperial conference, which meets in London next month. State department officials view the British communication as leaving open the possibility of negotiating a double-barreled treaty to curb rum-running and also to facilitate legitimate liquor shipments in foreign bottoms. There was no attempt, however, to disguise the fact that the British government had indicated general disapproval of the plan and raised objections against it.

PICKETS STATIONED AT ALL NEW YORK NEWSPAPER PLANTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—A meeting between George L. Berry of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union and officers of the New York News Pressmen's union No. 25, called for noon today, offered virtually the only hope of settlement of the strike of pressmen which has materially curtailed publication of most of the city's leading daily newspapers. Mr. Berry, in a letter sent to the local union last night, ordered the men to return to work. Early this morning he had received no answer.

Pickets were stationed at all newspaper plants throughout the city, but aside from hours as the trucks rolled away with their combined newspapers there were few untoward incidents. Six plants—the Daily News, American, World, Herald, Tribune and Morning

More than a fourth of all first pages were taken up with the banner, "The Combined New York Morning Newspapers," and the captions of 10 publications in the groups, including the Times, New York Herald Tribune and the Presses of the American, three of which did not publish.

Editorials were eliminated from all editions as were most of the usual comics and features. Advertisements were restricted to financial, steamship and theatre displays. Meanwhile, the smaller English dailies and foreign language publications not affected by the strike are enjoying a boom. The former have gained several pages in size in the last 24 hours and are publishing vastly larger editions, interspersed with many extras. Flaring headlines are appearing where they seldom appeared before and a new sprightliness is visible in several makeups. One morning paper announced today it was using all its presses and those of another non-striking plant in caring for its suddenly boosted circulation.

Several foreign language newspapers are appearing for the first time printed in English, from captions and editorials to advertisements. News stands which customarily distribute only town dailies reported receiving thousands of extra copies. They sold out early.

Five Men Arrested

Five men who said they were pressmen for the World were arrested early today charged with malicious mischief by detectives, who said they seized 50 bundles of newspapers from an elevated train and carried them in a taxi cab to the East river, ostensibly with the intention of destroying them.

HELD CONFERENCE AT ISOLATION HOSPITAL

The board of health held a special meeting in the office at city hall at 11 a.m. today, adjourning shortly after to take a trip to the isolation hospital, where a conference ensued with Dr. F. H. Smith, superintendent. Other than to say that the board visited the hospital, no word regarding the conference was given out.

In connection with the announced intention of Mayor John J. Donovan to conduct a personal investigation of the hospital as regards upkeep and maintenance charges, H. H. Honor said today, such an investigation has begun.

Doctors Indicted in Tyngsboro Suit—case Murder to Be Arraigned Tomorrow Afternoon

Robb and Swope Held in East Cambridge Jail—Nurse Sought in Connection With Case Found and Eliminated—Springfield Garage Employee Says Dr. Robb Left Orders to Have Car Washed—Urged Particular Attention Be Given Rubber Floor Mat—Search for Missing Head Resumed

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 19.—Dr. Dalva A. Swope of Brockton, indicted yesterday as an accessory before and after the fact to the murder of Mrs. Alice M. Wolschendorf, appeared with his attorney at the courthouse here at 12:25 p. m. today.

Dr. Swope and his attorney, James W. Murdoch of Brockton, went immediately into conference with District Attorney Arthur K. Reading.

Dr. Swope was brought into court this afternoon and on motion of District Attorney Reading, was held without bail for arraignment at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when Dr. Robb also will be arraigned. The district attorney told the court that he would make a motion later that the case be put on the trial list for October. Dr. Swope was remanded to the East Cambridge jail. Dr. Robb is also held there without bail.

It was understood that search would be resumed today for the woman's head and it was intimated that state police would turn their attention to some point in New Hampshire.

Nurse Found and Eliminated

The state police today reported that the nurse for whom a search had been carried on throughout Massachusetts and New Hampshire after the finding of portions of Mrs. Wolschendorf's dismembered body in two suitcases in the Merrimack river two weeks ago had been found and eliminated from the case. The nurse, a former resident of Springfield, admitted having been employed by Dr. William M. Robb, who has been indicted for murder in connection with the case. She said, however, that she had been married several years ago and since then had not been employed by the physician.

Robb Ordered Car Washed

Walter Walker, employed in the Springfield garage where Dr. Robb stored his automobile on the night of Sept. 6, had also been questioned, the state officers announced. Walker told the police that Dr. Robb had arrived at the garage late at night, asked to have his car stored and said that he would "be around in the morning."

He left orders to have the car washed, Walker said, requesting particularly that the rubber floor mat be washed, and explaining that he had spilled gingerale on the mat. Walker did not see Dr. Robb again.

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 19.—Dr. William M. Robb, Boston physician, was locked up today.

HAD GUN TO GUARD HIS $2,000,000

A surprising addition to Lowell's list of millionaires was discovered yesterday, when Officer Alfred J. Conroy ran across a man who had a revolver for the sole purpose of guarding his $2,000,000.

"You mean to tell me you have $2,000,000?" Officer Conroy gasped. "Yes, sir," replied Mike Kachavos. "I have $2,000,000 in German marks."

But Officer Conroy did not think there was hardly any need of Mike having a revolver merely to protect about 75 cents in American money, so he brought him to the police station.

And at the station the "millionaire" was placed behind the bars, charged with violating the law which prohibits aliens from carrying firearms. In court this morning Mike's case was continued to Saturday.

CROSSING LINES ON DOWNTOWN STREETS

This week the street department working under the direction of City Engineer Stephen Kearney and Traffic Supervisor Edward Connors will begin to lay out white crossing lines downtown similar to lines painted on the pavement last year. In addition to crossing lines, however, all fire hydrants will be marked out to prevent parking within 10 feet either side of them.

Twenty-five gallons of especially prepared paint already have been received, but it is believed 50 gallons will be necessary for all the work contemplated.

YOUNG MAN FINED AND SENTENCED FOR DRIVING AUTO WHILE UNDER INFLUENCE OF LIQUOR

Man Alleged to Have Fired Shot at Man Who Stopped Him is Held for Grand Jury—Other Cases in the District Court Today

Richard H. Baldwin, a 20-year-old youth, who resides in Waterdown, was sentenced to one month in the house of correction and ordered to pay a fine of $100 by Judge Enright in district court this morning on a charge of operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. For drunkenness he was fined $5. He appealed and was held in surities of $100.

Herbert E. Jacobs of Billerica testified that he was driving a Ford sedan on the Billerica highway on Aug. 28, and that the defendant, who was driving a Ford roadster, crashed into him. Jacobs said that Baldwin was driving zig-zag, and although he steered his car close to the right hand edge of the road, Baldwin's car swerved across the road and hit the sedan.

Mr. Jacobs estimated his damage at $162.50, which included medical aid furnished his wife and father-in-law, both of whom were injured in the crash. He further said that the defendant disappeared shortly after the accident.

Chief Livingston of the Billerica police testified that Baldwin was found lying by the side of the road, about a mile from the scene of the accident, about 5 o'clock in the morning. He said Baldwin was drunk at the time.

Baldwin said he had been at a camp at Nittling's pond, where he had two drinks of Italian wine. It was continued to Page 6

ASK PERMISSION TO INCREASE RATES
The Boston and Maine railroad has made application to the department of public utilities of this state for permission to increase the rates on commuter tickets 20 per cent, effective October 15. The department has received their appeal and will hold a hearing on this matter sometime after Sept. 24.

If permission is granted the railroad by the department, the increase will amount to $2.54 a month to local commuters who work in Boston and travel between their homes and their work daily. The price of monthly commuter tickets is now $12.68 and, according to the local ticket agents, will be $15.22 if the increase is granted. Insofar as is known at the local ticket office, the increase will not affect the 25-ride Boston-Lowell tickets.

PART OF WARD'S STORY UNTRUE

Chief Counsel for Accused Man Makes Admission at Murder Trial

Witnesses Tell of Finding of Slain Man's Body on Roadside

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The drama being enacted in the Westchester county courthouse in the trial of Walter S. Ward, millionaire baker's son for the murder of Clarence Peters, former sailor, will be watched with keener interest today because of the admission yesterday of Isaac N. Mills, chief counsel for the defense, that part of Ward's story could not be true.

Mr. Mills made the admission in an argument for reduction of the murder degree charged against his client.

Told of Finding Body

The state yesterday began wounding the circumstances by which it plans to convict Walter S. Ward, son of the millionaire baker of the murder of Clarence Peters, ex-marine.

After Supreme Court Justice Wagner, who is presiding at the trial, had denied the motion of the defense for the dismissal of the first degree murder charge, the prosecution brought forward three witnesses, two of whom testified regarding the finding of Peters' body on a lonely Westchester road nearly 17 months ago. The third was Dr. Harry J. Vier, who told of the autopsy which he performed.

His and Isaac N. Ward looked on less active and apparently under greater strain than while the jury was being chosen. He, his wife and brother, Ralph, who sat near, were the center of interest for the several hundred spectators who packed the court room to the doors. Fully half of the audience consisted of women, many of whom were fashionably dressed.

While the trial was getting under way, in a room on the floor below, the extraordinary grand jury which had returned the indictment against Ward had reconvened and was hearing the testimony of Dr. and Mrs. Eldridge Peters, of Haverhill, Mass., parents of the slain youth. Another witness called to the grand jury was James J. Cunningham, who is reported to have said that Peters was murdered in the Ward home at New Rochelle.

The first witness for the prosecution was Doreen H. Rose, White Plains druggist, who told how he found the body lying at right angles to the road, on its back, feet together, toes up and the arms against the sides. He said the vest was fully buttoned.

Harry Green, the first state patrolman to reach the spot, testified he found a bullet hole through the back of the vest and coat where the bullet had passed out, but no hole in the front of the vest or coat. The bullet passed through the shirt and underclothing both in the front and back, he said. The witness said a thorough search for the bullet failed to locate it.

GREEK FLEET SALUTES ALLIES

Measure of Apology Prescribed by Allies for Janina Murders Carried Out

Incident Which for a Time Threatened Peace of Balkans Regarded as Closed

ATHENS, Sept. 18.—Greece today discharged the measure of apology prescribed by the allies for the Janina murders and the incident which for a time threatened the peace of the Balkans is regarded as closed.

At 10 o'clock this morning the allied squadron led by the Italian warship Conte di Cavour steamed through the haze into Phaleron harbor where the waiting Greek ships rendered a salute of 21 guns to each flag.

At the same hour memorial services were celebrated at the Roman Catholic cathedral in Athens in the presence of the Greek cabinet and the allied diplomats, while at Preveza, the bodies of the murdered Italian boundary commissioners were embarked for Italy with military, naval and civil honors.

examined Green in an effort to show that the body was moved and the vent buttoned between the time Rose found it and Green arrived. He also tested Green's memory, claiming that his recent testimony was at a variance with that given by him before the grand jury. He read from the grand jury proceedings in an attempt to show several variations.

Dr. Vier testified he found a bullet wound in the center of the chest and another three inches lower on the back. He said the bullet passed through the heart.

While the trial was getting under way, in a room on the floor below, the extraordinary grand jury which had returned the indictment against Ward had reconvened and was hearing the testimony of Dr. and Mrs. Eldridge Peters, of Haverhill, Mass., parents of the slain youth. BLAME RADIO FOR DISASTER

Bits of Evidence Picked From Air Form Backbone of Testimony at Inquiry

Signals Received Indicated Squadron's Position North of Point Arguello

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 18.—Bits of evidence plucked from the air near Point Arguello on the night of Sept. 8, last, when seven destroyers crashed on the rocks a few miles north of that promontory, are expected to form the backbone of testimony presented to the naval court of inquiry investigating the disaster when it resumes its sessions here today.

From the flux of radionames came yesterday in the fragmentary form of messages (by sent or received during the hours just preceding the wreck, a story of repeated radio signals indicating the squadron's position some distance north of Point Arguello, a considerable distance above the point where it would have been safe to swim eastward into Santa Barbara channel.

Two minutes after the last of such signals was received, witnesses testified, Lieut. Commander Donald T. Hunter, captain of the squadron, flagship Delphy, ordered a change of course to the east which hurried seven vessels head-on into the rocks of Point Arguello.

Just how the fatal orders came to be issued, and who was responsible for the apparent misunderstanding of the radio signals, remained one of the questions which today's and other sessions of the court were expected to answer.

Testimony of radio men on the Delphy that they had been having trouble with their wireless for several hours before the crash; that the air was crowded with messages interfering with their attempts to obtain radio compass bearings from Point Arguello, indicating the squadron's position; and that they sometimes waited as long as 10 minutes for such direction signals, indicated some of the possible avenues of explanation.

If Successful He Will Meet Either Guilford or Dexter Cummings

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—In the second round match of the national amateur golf championship at Flossmoor, today, Jess Sweetser of New York, present champion of Chicago, national champion three years ago, and, if successful today, had the prospect of contesting his crown with either Jesse Guilford of Boston, winner of the title two years ago, or Dexter Cummings of Chicago, intercollegiate champion.

In the lower half of the upper bracket with Sweetser, How Gardner of Chicago, twice amateur national champion, played W. C. Fowkes of Pittsburgh, who won the title several years ago.

Working towards the semi-finals in the other half of the pairings Bobby Jones of Atlanta, national open champion, played Max Marston of Philadelphia, champion of Pennsylvania. The last quarter of the bracket brought together Francis Olinat of Boston, formerly national open and amateur champion, and Willie Hunter of Los Angeles, British amateur champion, 1921, who defeated Chick Evans of Chicago yesterday.

After a day of hectic golf that threatened the extinction of several favorites, all the national and former national champions survived the first round of match play at 36 holes in the national amateur championship at Flossmoor yesterday except Chick Evans, of Chicago, who was eliminated by Willie Hunter, of Los Angeles, former British titleholder, 2 and 1.

Only three of the matches were decided, including the overwhelming victory of the titleholder, Bobby Jones, who defeated Albert Seikel, of Chicago, once intercollegiate champion, 10 to 9. George von Elm, of Salt Lake City, formerly trans-Mississippi champion, defeated Capt. E. F. Carter, of Chicago, formerly Irish champion, 5 and 7, by shooting the first round in 71 or three strokes better than the other two matches went to H. K. B. Davis, of San Francisco, who ousted George Blossom of Chicago, 7 and 5.

The national open champion, Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., did not have an easy time winning from P. B. Cochran, of Winston-Salem, N. C., 2 and 1. At one time the Georgian was down to the Texan, but Cochran never got a commanding lead.

An even narrower escape was the experience of Jesse Guilford, of Boston, titleholder three years ago, for Louis Jacoby, of Dallas, not only held him even for 18 holes, but after losing a hole to Guilford on the third nine yielded no further, taking the Bostonian to the 36th green where he won 1 up by halving that hole.

Francis Olinat, of Boston, the tamer of Vardon and Hay in 1913, lost the morning round to Anthony Haines of Rockford, Ill., being one down to the former Yale athlete at noon, but he took four holes from Haines in the first half of the afternoon session and turned into the home stretch three up, only to lose part of the advantage and finally finish winner 2 and 1.

TO TEST AUTHORITY OF OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—Martial law rule over Oklahoma appeared rapidly to be approaching a climax today with attention momentarily focused on Tulsa, where Governor Walton's authority to suspend the right of recourse to habeas corpus will be tested.

Meanwhile, state legislators are gathering here to perfect plans for an extraordinary session of the authority in defiance of Governor Walton. No secret is made of the fact that if the legislature convenes impeachment proceedings will be instituted against the governor should sufficient basis for charges be found.

100 Cases of Mob Violence

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—Officers of the military commission appointed by Governor Walton in mid-August to investigate hogging in Tulsa county, today outlined their work from the beginning to the present time.

More than 100 cases of mob violence, some by hoodlums, have come to the attention of the investigators, they said, and more than 3000 pages of testimony have been prepared for submission to the attorney general of Oklahoma.

Approximately four hundred witnesses "who have experienced these hoggings in one form or another," in Tulsa county, in most cases within the last six months, have appeared before the commission, the officers reported. To date 30 men have been indicted by the filing of informations in the district court. One of the members of the commission declared that its work would end "when the last man of the law-breakers is in the penitentiary."

Of the 30 men indicted, six have been granted preliminary hearings in the civil courts and have been held in bonds for criminal trial.

Yesterday the commission heard 15 witnesses, and filed one new information charging riot, Morris Evans and Jake Hyde were named for participation in a hogging May 26, at the home of L. A. Cook in the county. The information charged that Evans and Hyde, with other persons unknown, attacked Cook's home, raided the house with bullets, abducted and hogged Cook and mistreated his wife.

TEXTILE FOOTBALL SQUAD ROUNDING INTO SHAPE

Coach Arthur Ball's Lowell Textile school football squad is rapidly rounding into shape and although the candidates have been on the green for three days the majority of them are in excellent physical condition, said Coach Ball this morning. Practice sessions to date have been devoted to running back punts and handling the ball. Drills will start in a few days and continue until the season's first contest, that with Tufts at the Medford oval on Sept. 29.

Coach Ball, who is starting his second year as teacher of football at Lowell, has a veteran squad with which to work. Only three men were lost to the team through graduation, but owing to the difficulty of securing new candidates are scarce. Capt. "Doc" Olson, who is assisting the coach in the direction of the team, is in better shape than ever before and is confident of a big season. Olson is exceptionally fast for a big fellow and was one of Lowell's best ground runners last year. Thomas Villa Smith, Mitchell, Scott, Berkham, Harmon and Peinold, all letter men, are back at school and participate in practice daily. With this nucleus, a successful season is looked for.

"Bill" Brosnan is the only Lowell man on the squad. He played an end position last year and will probably be assigned to the same place when the referee's whistle announces the beginning of the Tufts game.

LOWELL HIGH'S FOOTBALL PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Lowell high's football prospects for the coming year became more promising yesterday afternoon when a squad of 10 candidates, the largest group of the season, reported to Coach Liston at Alumni field and went through a series of formations in preparation for the first game on the 1923 schedule with Nashua high in the upper city a week from Saturday. Practice sessions to date have been more or less of a learning variety, although a light scrimmage was engaged in yesterday with two complete eleven lined up against each other.

The candidates were divided into two teams, A and B. Team A being composed of veterans and first-string possibilities, who registered their touch-downs at the expense of their lighter and more inexperienced opponents. On Team A Smith and Lawton worked the end positions, Barron and Cavanaugh played the tackles, Herron centre, Higgins and Ryan, guards, McHale quarterback, Calkins and Kelly, halfbacks, and Merrill, fullback. Team B used Roscioli and Phelps as ends, Sullivan and Donoghue, tackles, McLammon and Keefe, guards, Desmond, quarterback, Burke and Allard, halfbacks, and O'Neil, fullback. Coach Liston stated this morning that the line now working for Team A will probably start the season against Nashua. The backfield will undergo changes, he said.

In the school corridors this morning it was rumored that Ralph Willard, star punter of last season and a great little fullback, is considering a return to high school. Willard had been undecided as to whether he would spend another year in Lowell or attend a private school. He will prove a welcome addition to the line and Gray squad this season. The team is sorely in need of a good punter and Willard will fill the gap to perfection.

Another star destined to make glowing history this fall is Leo "Flash" McHale, who reported to the coach for the first time yesterday and performed at quarterback for Team A. McHale starred in baseball for the high school last spring and also worked out with the freshmen eleven last football. He is light but knows the game and should prove a capable mentor. Other veterans who got into action yesterday are Cavanaugh, Ryan and Barron, three experienced linemen.

Dummy tackling, signal practice and scrimmage will constitute the practice periods until the season gets under way. The coach is desirous that all candidates for the team stick to it throughout the season. Opportunities will come and several men will be used in every game when necessity requires. Every candidate is eligible for the "A" given at the end of the season. He doesn't have to be a first-string man to win this award.

While the varsity team is rehearsing the Freshman-Sophomore team is doing likewise under the direction of Coach Arthur Lynch. About 30 men were out in uniform yesterday and indications point to a strong eleven.

CARD OF THANKS
I desire to express my sincere thanks to my kind relatives and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown to me in the death of my beloved mother. I will ever hold them one and all in grateful remembrance.
MR. WILLIAM F. ODE

was all right when he started home, he said, but shortly before the accident he began to get drowsy and had a hard time to keep awake. He admitted going away after the accident and explained this by saying he was alone and did not care to argue with Jacobs. He sat down on the road and fell asleep and remained asleep until awakened by the officer.

Judge Boright in passing sentence said that he established a rule that jail sentences would be imposed in all cases where injuries or damages resulted from the operations of a drunken auto driver on the highway and therefore ordered the defendant committed.

Found Probable Cause
Probable cause was found against George Holonitis on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon Spiros Zaglankas, and he was ordered bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $300.

The case was due to be heard yesterday, but the complainant was not present and Judge Boright ordered a complaint to be issued. This morning the complainant was questioned as to his failure to present himself yesterday and he said that another man told him he didn't need to go to court. The court then ordered that the complainant be fined $10 for contempt of court.

Later, however, this fine was remitted, when it appeared that the complainant put in an appearance about noon yesterday. Before the court had been served on him.

In remitting the fine, however, the court said that foreigners must be made to realize they cannot trifle with the workings of the court and that when an offense had been committed against the law, they must also be made to realize that they cannot get together in a coffee house and settle matters among themselves, as was evident in this case, he said.

The case is of long standing in all months, but this was suspended for two years, with the understanding that he pay $10 each week for the support of the child. It appeared that there had been an argument between the two men in a coffee house on Market street, and the complainant said that he slapped the defendant in the face. The latter left the coffee house, but returned shortly after and fired a shot at the complainant. The shot missed its mark, however, and the defendant then made his escape.

Other Offenders
Joseph Denault pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal keeping liquor, and a fine of $100 was imposed.

Nora McGuinness pleaded not guilty to a charge of keeping a house of ill fame and Pauline Lombardy pleaded not guilty to a charge of being a lewd person. At the request of their counsel, the cases were continued until Sept. 29.

Andrew Desjardins pleaded guilty to a charge of non-support of his child, but after a warning by the court he agreed to contribute to its support. The child is now being cared for by an aunt. Desjardins was sentenced to six months, but this was suspended for two years, with the understanding that he pay $10 each week for the support of the child.

TRAIN OF OAKLANDS ON LONG JOURNEY

In dispatching a fleet of their new 1924 models to every section of the United States and Canada from the factories at Pontiac, Michigan, September 8, the Oakland Motor company inaugurated one of the most unique and thorough demonstrations of a line of motor cars probably ever attempted in the automotive industry.

It was gala day in Pontiac, where nearly half the population of the city and the entire factory force of 3500 turned out to wish the 1924 Oakland True Blue Travelers "Godspeed" as they whirled off on their journey to points on the Pacific and Atlantic coast, the Canadian border and the Gulf of Mexico.

As the cars halted in front of the Oakland administration building, the drivers were given short parting talks by George H. Hannum, president of the company, and C. J. Nephler, general sales manager. Each driver received letters from Mr. Hannum to be delivered personally to all Oakland branches and distributors along the routes. Mayor Kimball also gave the boys a parting word with letters to be delivered to the mayors of cities at the end of the long tours.

The Oakland factory band led the fleet of travel cars, which were followed by other models of the new line through to Detroit. Several stops were made in the smaller towns enroute. In the parade into Detroit the owners of Oakland cars joined the procession. After circling the General Motors building, the True Blue Travelers were halted in front of the building after which they were dispatched by General Motors officials to the various points of the compass.

The long tours of the new 1924 Oakland models are being made to demonstrate the performance which can be expected from the new Oakland Six as well as the many new features that tend to make motor car driving safer for both the motorist and the pedestrian.

In most of the places through which the cars pass, police department officials will be given a demonstration of the better control devices in the new models, particularly the four wheel brakes and the hand controls centralized on the steering wheel.

The demonstration of the four wheel brakes will show the additional safety provided in the new models on wet pavements at times when the application of the ordinary two wheel brakes would mean a skid and also the quick sure backing power on steep hills and in crowded city streets.

The centralized arrangement of all the operating controls on the steering wheel instead of the dash tends to cut down the possibility of mishap since it is not necessary for the driver to remove his hands from the steering wheel to shift gears. The fact that a driver can shift lights from dim to bright and back without reaching to the dash, is of particular value in night driving when many serious accidents occur.

The fleet of travelers sent out on this demonstration are all stock models and each car had run many thousands of miles before starting out.

The Oakland 15,000 mile engine guarantee is also in effect on the new models as well as the special mileage basis plan.

THE AUTOMOBILE IN THE MOVIES

"The Story of an Automobile" moving picture, to be shown at Liberty hall tomorrow is alive with human interest.

Machines representing the last word in manufacturing efficiency perform spectacular operations of almost every conceivable description.

Red hot steel is forged into axle shafts by a few blows from gigantic steam hammers. Molten metal is cast into intricate designs. Bars of steel are cut by a huge knife as if they were paper, and specimen propeller shafts are twisted until they break to be sure that they are capable of withstanding a strain far beyond anything the most excessive road use would demand.

This film was produced under the direction of the United States department of commerce in co-operation with The Studebaker Corporation and will be shown in all parts of the world. It was photographed in the new $20,000,000 Studebaker plant at South Bend, Indiana.

The Story of An Automobile

Here's an intimate story of automobile building that will appeal to everyone who has ever ridden in a motor car.

It's even more interesting than an actual trip through an automobile factory because the camera pictures details which would escape the eye. It abounds in human interest, with many thrills and in many cases real excitement.

You see the various parts transformed from the red-hot metal to the finished unit. You follow the final assembly line in operation with units added in logical order, each unit being traced throughout its manufacture before the next is applied.

This film was produced under the direction of the United States Department of Commerce in co-operation with the Studebaker Corporation and will be shown in all parts of the world. It is an education in manufacturing efficiency.

BUICK TURNING OUT ITS GREATEST CAR

After months and months of hard and intelligent effort, the Buick organization feels that it has designed, tested and is now manufacturing the greatest car offered in the 20 years of its automobile experience. That the public feels in accord with that opinion, is, of course, immensely gratifying.

Buick has been building automobiles for 20 years and during that time has turned out, up to July 1, 1923, a total of 1,060,226 cars. Experience is the best teacher—and many skilled men who came with Buick 20 years ago are still learning how to build better Buicks each year.

LAND FOR DEVELOPMENT OF CEMETERIES

The board of cemetery commissioners has under consideration an offer for the purchase of 15 additional acres of land from the estate of the late Erastus Bartlett, which, if secured, will mark a forward step in the further development of the Westlawn and Edison cemeteries along lines of landscape architecture.

Although this offer now only has been made to William H. Rigby, chairman of the board, he will present it to the commission at its next meeting and personally will urge its acceptance, as he feels it is most reasonable and will constitute a forward-looking acquisition.

Speaking of the 15 acres in question today, Chairman Rigby said if the commission votes to purchase them it will allow a new Edison cemetery entrance at the junction of Boston road and Carlisle street as well as giving to the Westlawn cemetery a beautiful tract of land, rolling in type and including a fine pine grove. This type of undulating land is something of which the Edison cemetery cannot now boast, and Mr. Rigby feels it would add greatly to the beauty and general appearance of the grounds.

The offer has been made to Mr. Rigby by John A. Sawyer, administrator of the Bartlett estate, who also sold to the commission the 17-acre tract purchased earlier this year.

ther heard at this sitting and was argued by counsel and thereupon, upon consideration thereof, it is judged, ordered and decreed that the petition be dismissed. The respondents to recover costs against the petitioners, said costs to be taxed as in an action at law by the clerk and execution to issue therefor.

Inasmuch as the costs are to be taxed as in an action at law, it is not believed they will bulk very large.

This case is a sister case of the restraint action brought by Mr. Conners against the city in relation to the construction of the new high school.

The case first was in the superior court and was heard by two masters before going to a single justice of the supreme court. With the issuance of a final decree and a dismissal of the petition, money due the Engineering Service and Construction company will be paid by the city in due course of time.

ANOTHER STORMY SESSION OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Warm Discussion Over Adoption of New Rules as Prepared by Sub-Committee—Action on Sections Having to Do With Authority of Superintendent Deferred—Mr. Molloy Asks for Public Hearing—Mrs. Pearson Makes Plea for Fair Play

In the course of a warm discussion over the adoption of the new set of rules last evening, Supt. Hugh J. Molloy made a verbal request to the school board that he be given a hearing and that no action be taken on the amendments which affect his status and powers until such time as the hearing has been held. During the evening Mr. Molloy reiterated his request several times, but no action was taken. This was at a special meeting of the school board called for the members were present. The new rules as presented by the special committee were taken up and every chapter and section was discussed at considerable length. In the early part of the discussion Mrs. Pearson asked if any of the employees of the department had been consulted by the committee on rules before the rules affecting them had been drawn up, but her question remained unanswered.

Each member of the school board as well as the superintendent and business agent had typewritten copies of the proposed new rules and each section was taken up by number. Inasmuch as no copies of the rules were provided the press, it is impossible today to state which sections were approved and which were referred for further consideration.

As soon as action of some sort was taken on a section Mr. Delaney moved the adoption of the next section and in practically every case a live discussion followed. On most of the sections affecting the status and powers of the superintendent, action was deferred until two weeks, but only after lengthy discussions. It seemed that Mr. Mullin held the key to the situation last evening, or in other words, his was the deciding vote, for Messrs. Bruin and Delaney and Dr. Slaughter voted together in favor of practically every motion, while the votes of Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Riley and the mayor in practically every instance were in opposition to the motion. Mr. Mullin shifted from one side to the other and in most instances cast the deciding vote. In shifting his vote with that of Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Riley and the mayor, Mr. Mullin stated that his action was in fairness to all as he desired to give the mayor more time to study certain sections of the rules, as he said he knew Mr. Honor was a very busy man and was unable to give the matter his due consideration.

Mr. Molloy Speaks

When the first section affecting the status and powers of the superintendent came up for discussion, Mr. Molloy requested the privilege of being heard and his request was granted. He said: "As the question comes on adopting an amendment that affects the standing of the superintendent and as I believe that the proposed changes are brought about for some reason, I respectfully ask the committee to grant me the privilege of a public hearing before adopting such rules. I object to the matter as a whole, and I feel that there is not an employee of the department who hasn't a right to ask for a hearing in any matter that vitally concerns his status and obligations. If these rules are to be approved, it seems to me making only a reasonable request and the committee should set a date for the hearing and give me ample time to prepare for it."

Mr. Bruin said this was a new form of defeating motions. "I am ready to vote on the matter now," he said.

Mr. Riley said he did not believe the board would want a request in writing from the superintendent for what he has a legal right to demand. Mr. Delaney argued that there were no charges against the superintendent nor against the secretary. He could see no reason for a public hearing. He further stated that last year the superintendent was elected temporary secretary of the board and at that time no hearing was asked. "This is the most ridiculous thing I ever heard," he said.

Mr. Molloy stated that his was a fair request and said he was entitled to it. "If you wish to treat me fairly," he continued, "you will grant my request."

Mr. Bruin said he looked over the newspaper files several years back and failed to read anything about hearings.

Mr. Molloy: "If the gentleman (pointing to Mr. Bruin) continues to insult me, I will ask for redress, as I do not propose to be insulted any further."

After more discussion it was finally voted to postpone action on the section involved for two weeks.

When another section pertaining to the records was brought up for adoption, Mr. Molloy asked as to who has the custody of the records of the department, and Mr. Bruin replied that the proposed change does not affect the keeping of the records. This section was also deferred for further consideration.

At 10:35 o'clock several members of the city council entered the room and most of them remained until the close of the meeting as spectators.

Mrs. Pearson's Statement

At this point Mrs. Pearson made the following statement:

"I asked earlier in the meeting to be continued to page eight."

Suffered Breakdown After Husband's Death

Was in a Serious Condition Until She Began Taking Wincarnis

"During my husband's illness I had practically worn myself out through work and worry, and so when he passed away, I had almost reached a state of collapse. I would feel so exhausted that it was all I could do to get about, and yet when night came I could get no sleep. I was fearfully nervous—the least little thing would make me jump."

"I read one day about Wincarnis and decided to try it, and it certainly has done wonders for me. I began to improve wonderfully and by the time I had taken the first bottle my appetite had come back, I was much less nervous and was getting some sleep at night. I have taken only a few bottles and now I am entirely well. My husband is going and I really feel like a new woman."

During the course of the evening a fine musical program was given by members of the party including solos by Mrs. Alice Dacey Delmore and Miss Rose McCarthy. Miss Annette Foster was the accompanist of the evening. A character sketch "Yes, We Have No Bananas" presented by the Misses Margaret Cotter and Helen Brennan was one of the many entertaining features of the evening. The decorative scheme.

Curran, the bride-to-be who is a most accomplished player of the ukulele, capably rendered several selections, both classical and popular. Refreshments were served and the party dispersed at a reasonable hour wishing Miss Curran success in her chosen vocation. The house was prettily decorated, pink and blue bells, constituting a very delightful feature of the evening's decorative scheme.

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

The directors of the Massachusetts state chamber of commerce will meet tonight in the Hotel Bancroft, Worcester, to take action on the report of the joint commission on New England railroads, appointed by the governors of the New England states, which favors the consolidation of all New England railroads into one system.

The Lowell members of the directors of the state chamber are S. H. Thompson, William N. Goodell and George F. Wells, and they will attend the meeting this evening.

The hearing before the interstate commerce commission on the consolidation of the New England roads will be held in Boston beginning next Monday and the action taken on the matter at tonight's meeting of the directors of the state chamber will be presented to the commission at that time.

Suitcase Murder

locked in the East Cambridge jail last night, to await arraignment on Thursday on an indictment charging first degree murder. The physician was indicted yesterday by the Middlesex county grand jury in connection with the death of Mrs. Alice M. Wolschendorf of East Bridgewater, parts of whose body were found in the Merrimack river at Fingertown September 1 and 2 continued in two suitcases.

Another physician, Dr. Davis A. Swope of Brockton, also was indicted in connection with the same case. He was charged in two counts with being an accessory before and after the fact. State police officers who went to Brockton to arrest Dr. Swope yesterday, reported that they could not find him. Later the physician's attorney telephoned District Attorney Reading of Middlesex county that his client would surrender today. Both men were arrested last Friday, Dr. Robb on the charge of illegal surgery and Dr. Swope as an accessory before the fact. Both entered pleas of not guilty when arraigned in Lowell Saturday and were admitted to bail. Then came the grand jury special session and yesterday's indictments.

Before the action of the grand jury became known, Dr. Robb was seen to leave his residence in the Back Bay district of Boston, and the report spread that he was leaving the city. The police ordered all roads watched. Later in the day, however, the physician appeared with his attorney at the courthouse here and was closed for an hour with the district attorney. He was placed under arrest.

Dr. Robb was taken at once before Judge Frederick J. McLeod in superior court. He took his place in the prisoner's cage and his name was called by the clerk. His name was turned over to the custody of the sheriff until further order of the court. After a brief conference between judge and counsel, Robb was brought back to the courtroom and District Attorney Reading moved for immediate arraignment, stating that a special venire of jurors had been called for October and that he wished to have the physician's case placed before the court at that time. Robb's counsel asked for arraignment Thursday so that he might study the indictment. He said his client desired a speedy trial. The judge fixed Thursday for Robb's arraignment.

State police officers left today for southern New Hampshire in an effort to find the head and other missing parts of Mrs. Wolschendorf's body. The camp in the woods at which they profess to believe the body was dismembered, and a nurse, said to be a retirement in New Hampshire, who is believed to have been present when an alleged illegal operation was performed on the woman.

Jews Observe Atonement Day

spent in prayer and meditation. For the full twenty-four hours food and drink are abstained from.

The holy day is ushered in with the Kol Nidre services sung by the choir in all houses of worship. Another feature is the memorial service marked by the recitation of prayers. The Kol Nidre prayers constitute the closing service of the day.

The Services in Lowell

Rabbi Elias Wolfson will conduct the services in Lowell. The principal services will be conducted in the Synagogue at 123 Howard street. Similar services will also be conducted under Rabbi Wolfson in Khilias Jacobie synagogue, 8 McIntire street, and Oshai Stard synagogue, 143 Howard street.

At sunset tonight the Jewish people will gather for the first service, which will last for about three hours. Then they will go to their homes, returning to the synagogues at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning to spend the day in prayer and meditation as contemplated by the law and customs of the faith.

Harvest Festival Next Week

Following closely upon the Yom

Kippur services is the Feast of the Ingathering, known also as the Feast of the Tabernacles or Succoth, which will be observed for one week beginning next Monday evening and concluding at sunset on Tuesday, October 2. Probably because it follows so closely upon the great religious holy days of the Synagogue, this Harvest Feast attracts less attention than it intrinsically merits. For despite its primitive origin, agricultural setting Succoth is capable of yielding the modern worshipper sober joy and a spiritually enheartening message.

Its Biblical basis is Deuteronomy 16:13-14 where it is said "Thou shalt keep the Feast of Tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in from thy threshing floor and from thy winepress. And thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy man-servant, and thy maid servant, and the Levite, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow that are within thy gates." Reference to the Feast of the Tabernacles is also made in Leviticus 23:34-43, and in other parts of the Pentateuch.

Rain Asked in Ancient Days

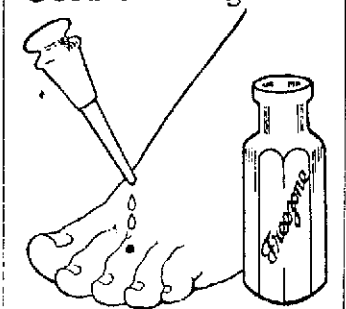

It is held that our national Thanksgiving Day is directly patterned on this ancient harvest festival—that the Pilgrim Fathers, being earnest and devout scripture readers, transferred the Harvest Festival of Israel to our own American environment.

In connection with the protracted drought which is worrying farmers and others in this section it is appropriate for a moment turn back to the days of ancient Israel when it was customary during the festival to offer prayers for rain and dew. There is an obscure reference to this custom in the last chapter of Zechariah. The popular outburst of joy there mentioned is re-echoed throughout the liturgy of the Harvest Festival.

Both in the synagogue and in the home the feast bears a joyous

"FREEZONE"

CORNS lift right off

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an itching corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.—Adv.

aspect. It is the season of gladness; the worshiper is reminded of and impressed with God's goodness and mercies which endure forever. According to the preachment the feast of Succoth is the message of Israel to humanity on the dignity of labor and the value of the toil by which we earn our daily bread. Particularly stressed on this feast is the notion of God's protection over Israel throughout the centuries. It is pointed out that as God protected Israel through the forty years of his wandering in the wilderness, so hath God shielded him during the centuries of his subsequent pilgrimages over the earth.

Decorate For Occasion

During Succoth week it is customary in American synagogues to decorate the places of worship with harvest symbols such as fruits and flowers and grain. Some congregations even erect a booth as the prime symbol of the occasion, reminding all that Israel was a pilgrim and a laborer in the vineyard of the Lord, preparing for the nation and seeking for the laborer service to humanity which was to follow.

School Board Meeting

night if any of the heads of departments had been consulted by the committee on rules before these rules affecting them had been drawn up. I have been told that none of them, not even the superintendent, nor paid expert on educational matters, had been consulted. Now it seems to me, in order to be just, that the school committee should first hear from these experts before they who are totally inexperienced, should undertake to alter their status as superintendent, supervisors, masters or teachers.

I was informed by one member of the rules committee that these rules are not the result of their own efforts but copied from the rules of surrounding cities with one exception, the curbing of the power of the superintendent and for that, they could find no authority in the state. In the duties that have been assigned to our superintendent in these rules, he is, as far as I can see, reduced to the mere record boy of the school board, a compiler of the most useless data imaginable and for which compilation some one is already responsible. Take, for instance, the requirement to visit every school once a month. I should like to ask why we would then need Miss Lee, our supervisor of kindergartens—for what is she engaged but to do that very thing?

"May I ask what the superintendent is to do when he does visit the schools? Is he only to walk in and remove his hat and walk out again, or is he to interfere with every school activity and delay the school work for that day? Taking one week out of every month for visiting schools leaves only fifteen days for the superintendent to collect information on the six other required reports of the superintendent, and when are the real educational problems to be solved—and who is to solve them?"

"I may be wrong, but I liken the school organization to any great corporation with our superintendent as the general manager, our supervisors, masters and teachers his superintendents. The 5000 children in the school system his operatives for whom the whole organization exists—must just ever remember that the schools of Lowell are first, last, and always, for the children."

"Our superintendent's duty as a general manager is to remain at headquarters to receive the reports, whether adverse or not, of the superintendents, beneath him on the progress of the children in education. He should help the officers solve their problems and keep within his mind the complete control of our school system, report to the school board and finally carry out their wishes and orders. After carefully studying the sections in regard to the duties of our superintendent as prescribed by these new rules, it seems to me that any person on our civil service list could fill the office. He needs no college education, no knowledge of teaching, no executive ability just the ability to drive a car from school to school, interfere with the duties of others, hold back our school system as consistently as possible and make endless reports, which according to the change in section 25, chapter 3 says, "the superintendent must not enter into discussions," he will never be allowed to make."

"In consideration of this and other unfairness in the mind I make the motion that a public hearing be held before the adoption of these rules to give an opportunity to our paid experts to express their views upon the proposed changes of the rules of the school board affecting their status."

Mr. Delaney Heard

At this point Mr. Delaney asked the privilege of making a statement, and said: "At the last regular meeting of the board I was reported to have said that Mr. Foster, the agent of the New England Telephone Co. had criticized the commercial department of the high school. I made no such statement for either Mr. Foster or the telephone official has criticized the commercial department of the school so far as I know. This statement concerning me was made with malice and to injure me. I want this to appear in the records." At the close of the meeting, Mr. Delaney told the Sun man that if he had made the statement he did not mean it.

Mr. Delaney stated that he recalled the incident and said the names of the two business men mentioned had been linked with the statement.

The discussion then shifted to the permanent substitute teachers for the high school and Mr. Brain moved that the assignment to the high school made by the superintendent be not approved as it places in the high school one who was elected third at a meeting of the board, and that it is the intent of the board that the names of substitute teachers for permanent work be taken in order of their election. Mr. Mullin moved an amendment that two permanent teachers be elected. Both amendment and motion were defeated. Mr. Mullin then moved that one teacher be elected for the high school and this motion was also defeated. The motion of Mr. Delaney that Miss Conway be elected a permanent teacher at the high school was also killed. At 12:30 o'clock adjournment was taken.

Another I. W. W. Defendant Surrenders

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 19.—A. E. Anderson walked into the sheriff's office here yesterday and announced that he had come all the way from Siberia to surrender and serve a term of from one to fourteen years in San Quentin penitentiary. Anderson and nine other Industrial Workers of the World were convicted of criminal syndicalism. All were released on bail, pending appeal which since has been denied by the third district court of appeals. Anderson is the sixth of the defendants to surrender.

Veteran Methodist Minister Drops Dead

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—Rev. James H. Robinson, who retired from the Methodist Episcopal ministry 10 years ago, dropped dead last night in the South station when about to board a train to return to the home of his son in Quincy where he had been spending the summer. He was born in Newark, N. Y., 82 years ago and held pastorates in Troy, N. Y., and Stamford, Brandon, Vergennes and Poulney, Vt.

Town of Trinity Wiped Out by Fire

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Sept. 19.—The town of Trinity, a community of between 30 and 40 houses was wiped out, and a strip of from two to five miles wide between the towns of Kenwood and El Verano laid waste by a forest and brush fire during the past two days, according to advices received here from the fire zone early today. Fifteen highway bridges destroyed between Santa Rosa and Glen Ellen, near the Valley of the Moon were destroyed by the flames. Ranches, farm houses, crops and gardens were wiped out.

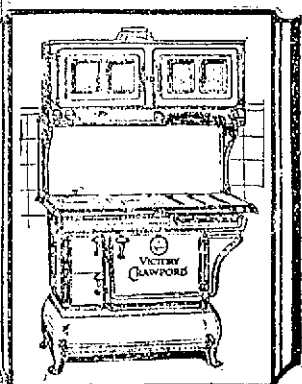

The Eskimo started it— The Crawford perfected it!

THE ESKIMOS, having no firewood, had to cook their food in soap-stone kettles over seal-oil lamps. Live cooking flame was thus, for the first time, concentrated on the cooking dish in order to use all the heat in the most efficient way.

In the Victory Crawford today you'll find this ancient principle of cookery perfected. Twenty years ago no one would have believed that so much of the active heat of cooking flame could be used so efficiently.

The Victory uses coal or wood or gas, as fuel. It has a coal oven, two gas ovens, and the Crawford Adjustable Broiler—smokeless, flameless, clean, convenient.

An Eskimo would marvel at this range—in black or gray enamel; in two sizes, 43 in. or 37 in. long. But you needn't be an Eskimo to marvel—come in and see it today.

This is the Victory Crawford in gray enamel finish, so easy to keep clean. It is also finished in black.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
 "The End of a Perfect Troupe," which Cressy and Dayne are playing at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, is typical of Mr. Cressy, who is the author of it. With a scene laid back in the foothills of the White mountains, there plays through it some of the kindest of humor. It is a well polished, cozy and altogether, it lives up to the reputation Mr. Cressy has scored with his other playlets. Claude & Marion, who are still arguing, make a splendid second lead for the bill, while Lloyd & Goode are blackface talkers and dancers of more than ordinary ability. Great Howard, ventriloquist, is nothing if not original in his work, and Adams & Lillian put forth music, plus personality. The bill opens with Blair & Pennington in a mixture of several things. Jack Pickford in "Jephson's Finish" will interest those who like a picture filled with snap and dash. The racing scenes are especially good.

THE STRAND
 Lovers of the better class of photoplays will find extreme pleasure in the bill being presented at the Strand for the last time today. "Mothers-in-Law" is a drama that has sufficient humor attached to it to make it greatly enjoyed by all, while "The Tagged Edge" has many phases of present day life that will appeal to every class of patrons. Just miss the last chance today of seeing these two feature film productions.

"The Girl of the Golden West" a stage play which made fame for itself and those who engaged in its presentation, recently adapted to the screen, with J. Warren Kerrigan, Sylvia Breemer, Rosemary Theby and others employed in its interpretation, will lead the program for the last three days of the week, starting with multi-photographed Thursday. The more the audience of the title and the list of stars engaged should appeal strongly to all patrons who enjoy the superior class of photoplays as a rule, western dramas, especially those which depict life of the gold rush days, are over-looked with cheap, meaningless melodrama. No longer is the emphasis upon the mind and does not really entertain. In "The Girl of the Golden West," however, Director Carrow has brought in the strong human touches and developed the old romance of the famous Belasco stage triumph in a way that holds one's undivided attention from the first flash to the ending. The story has no Broadway cowboys, no Indians, no running gun fights and no pretense. It seems really western and through it is a real western, still it is not difficult to live right along with the characters on the screen. Mr. Kerrigan and Miss Breemer, as well as the others in the cast are well chosen for their respective characters, and their combined efforts are truly meritorious. Don't miss this most unusual picture.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
 Do you know what a Minute Man is? Now don't go back into Revolutionary history to pick out these two words, for a Minute Man of 1776 and a Minute Man of this ultra-modern year of 1923 are two entirely different propositions. The explanation comes in one of the most amusing moments of the great comedy drama, "Six Cylinder Love," which the Al. Lauringer stock players are presenting at the Opera House this week. When Donkey, the automobile salesman, blithely states that "a Minute Man is a sucker who buys a car when he can't afford it, and he's called that because there's one born every minute."

I gained in weight and never felt better in my life than after taking this medicine. And for constipation or sluggish and inactive liver, I always take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. mortgage his pretty little cottage to buy the car, in the first place. Then, when he got it, he found that he was quickly surrounded by a flock of squabblers, and by the time he got through settling his party's real-estate matters and speeding lines, he got into a heap of trouble. And when he got out of debt he was caught and nearly went down and out with a bill, sickening thud.

This, of course, is the barest outline of the fascinating story that Playwright McElford has built around "Six Cylinder Love," and patrons of the Opera House will find it the most wholesome and amusing yet dramatic play they have witnessed in a long time.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
 Final performances will be given this evening at the Merrimack Square Theatre of "Hollywood," the noted production of motion picture life with a cast of 20 stars and 25 screen personalities. This big photoplay has won wide applause from all who have witnessed it and those who have not yet seen it should take advantage of the final opportunities offered tonight.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the program has been arranged another big bill of superb attractions. The pictures will be "Pink Gods," starring Bebe Daniels, James Kirkwood and Anna Q. Nilsson, in a remarkable story of a woman's desires, and "The Lone Star Ranger," Zane Grey's famous novel of western life, with Tom Mix in the leading role. An excellent comedy and the latest News Magazine will complete the program.

The theme of "Pink Gods" is the fatal lure of diamonds for women, and the dramatic action revolves about a young woman, played by Bebe Daniels, and the lengths of indifference to which she goes to obtain the precious stones. Mr. Kirkwood is seen as John Quich, the man who made Kimberly, and the man who has in his gift innumerable gems.

"The Lone Star Ranger," the popular narrative from the pen of Zane Grey, is the story of the life of the daring Texas Rangers, who went out to protect the man despite hazard and obstacles. It is such a stirring hard-fighting part, replete with romance, that last made Tom Mix the favorite film actor here.

THE RIALTO THEATRE
 "Quincy Adams Sawyer," one of the most widely heralded plays, is announced as the chief attraction at the Rialto for Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is based on the life of the famous New England life which was and still is a phenomenal "best seller." So great was the popularity of the printed narrative by Charles Pelton Phelps that it was dramatized and in this form it won more favor. The elaborate photoplay version is even more interesting than the book or the play.

Everybody knows the story of "Quincy Adams Sawyer." Everybody knows and loves his quaint rustic characters. The story of the young lawyer from Boston, Quincy Adams Sawyer, his coming to the small town of Mason's corner; his experiences in running down a dishonest scoundrel; his great love affair—all this is part of the attractive novel which is now a screen play. The delightful rural characters are non-provoking to the extreme, and the fresh, clean, humor will appeal to all lovers of better photoplays. A lavish production has been given to this famous story. To enact the roles in the picture, the entire motion picture industry was searched for its best material. As a result, one of the very highest priced assemblages of talent is seen, and in the list are players who have been starred in their own right. Among the more important are: Blanch Sweet, Lon Chaney, Louise Fazenda, John Bowers, Barbara La Marr, June Elvidge, Elmo Lincoln, Hank Mann, Gale Henry, Jilly Penney, Zane Pitts and many more.

And then on the same bill is Larry Semon in "The Agent," said by movie fans to be one of the best comedies in which this Vitaphone faunter has ever appeared. Lew Dalaney, portrayer of virile western roles is also on the program in "When Fighting is Necessary," a story of the west. A Pathe News complete the program.

Have you heard the new big pipe organ at the Rialto. If you haven't you are really missing something. It has splendid tone and with the unusually good acoustics of the Rialto stage, the music will sound 100 per cent better.

A real musical treat is in store for those who enjoy good music played by an expert musician.

ROYAL THEATRE
 "You Can't Fool Your Wife," said George Melford, and to prove this assertion has created a production, in which marital difficulties based on said title form the background to a moving story of intrigue and jealousy. A splendid cast enters the principal roles. We have Lentriche Joy and Lewis Stone in the leads, while Rita Sabatelli personally adds the spice to the plot. As a counter-attraction, "Without Benefit of Clergy," a Klinging product, is the piece de resistance. Here we have a different sort of a tale, written by a celebrated author, and treating with life, very much as it is lived in faraway lands. Lloyd Hamilton will sustain the comedy end of the program, while a Fox News will open up the performance. Unquestionably, one of the very best programs in Lowell for Wednesday and Thursday and at prices which suit the pocketbook.

PICTURES TELL STORY OF MAN'S CONQUEST OF THE AIR

Above you see the navy's new giant dirigible ZN-1 in flight over New York City, a rare sight for the metropolis. Capable of sustaining a flight for many hours, it can carry enough explosive to convert great skyscrapers into piles of junk. Below you see Roy Knabenshue's little gas-filled blimp with which he startled natives of the central states 14 years ago. Carrying one man and staying in the air for a few minutes it was considered the marvel of the age.

TOKIO, via Osaka, Sept. 17.—(By the Associated Press)—The Tokyo municipal council has approved and recommended to the government a concrete plan for reconstructing the capital along more modern and more substantial lines. It is aimed to make the new Tokyo quake-proof and fireproof. The outline of the plan follows:

Construct spacious parks at 13 important points in the city; build elevated railways, canals and broad streets; third, establish several freight stations with Tabata station as the center of the system, as a means of expediting the transportation of necessary freight.

As a lieutenant in the revenue cutter service he was a member of the roller party sent out by the government in search of the ill-fated Jeanette expedition to the north pole and he was in the Arctic in 1881, 1882 and 1883. He was later a trustee and manager of estates. He was chairman of the republican state committee for three years and a delegate to the republican national convention in Chicago in 1908. He served for three years as lieutenant colonel and assistant inspector-general of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 8

"Now you must walk back to shore again," said the little water girl. "You can only stay in this Nugget Pool long enough to get clean." So Jack turned around and waded out of the water. As soon as he reached the shore the Lady of the Lake clapped her hands and some nymphs appeared.

"Sit down on that rock!" shouted the water girl, and Jack did as he was told. Then the little nymphs started fanning him with huge leaves. In a few moments Jack felt of his clothing and discovered they were all dry. Then the water girl and nymphs suddenly disappeared.

Jack was alone with Flip. He was wondering what he should do next when Mother Earth appeared. "Now that you are spick and span," said she, "I will let you visit Silver Cavern." So she led the way to another opening which seemed to be covered with bars of bright silver. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

THE THREE BROWN OWLS

"Hi, Y!" he shouted, and see if there is any mail for me," said Mister Gallop, the cowboy fairy.

"Come along, kiddies," he called over his shoulder as he touched his pony with his spurs (not enough to hurt him) and galloped along the road toward some cottonwood trees.

Nancy and Nick followed on their ponies and arrived just in time to see their friend swinging himself out of his saddle and flailing out on the ground. Then he reached his arm down into a deep hole and what should he pull out but a letter!

"Hi Y!" he shouted, jumping to his feet and unfolding his letter. "I kinda thought I'd get one today. Let's see, who it's from. Why, it's from Penny Prairie Dog. For goodness sake! Do you suppose he's in trouble again? Here, you read it, Nancy. I'm kind of hard of seeing."

So Nancy took the letter and read: "Dear Mister Gallop: 'I hate to be such a nuisance, but honest to goodness, I can't help it. I left my house today for a minute to ask Johnnie Jack Rabbit something, and when I came back I was told to move out.

"Three lousy looking things who call themselves owls were sitting on my front porch and hooting at me. They said they had just moved in and intended to stay, as they had been told that mice were plentiful thereabouts.

"When I told them all the trouble I had taken to dis out my house in every thing, they just blinked their silly eyes and said that since I was so good at it, I could easily make another one.

"Please, sir, help me out of this fix and I'll do something for you some day."

"You're in Penny Prairie Dog."

"Poor Penny!" said Mister Gallop. "Sure, I'll help him. Come along, kiddies, but he's quiet. Sit! Here we are at Penny's house now. Be ready to grab if anything comes out."

Then he squeaked like a little mouse. Suddenly out popped a big brown head. It was Penny Burrow and look say how Nancy scratched him.

Mister Gallop squeaked again and out came another brown head. That was Billy Burrow owl. Nick got him. And the last one Mister Gallop grab-

Long List of Claims Approved at Last Night's Meeting

Harry Doherty's Claim for Legal Expenses Included in List Approved

Claims Sanctioned by Council Totaled Over $2500—Routine Business

Included in a list of claims approved last night by the city council upon recommendation of the special claims committee were one allowing Harry Doherty, superintendent of streets, $75 for legal expenses incurred by him in 1922 on the occasion of his removal from office by a board of public service appointed by the then mayor. The passage of these claims, totaling more than $2500, was the only matter of business outside of routine channels.

Pres. Gallagher called the council to order at 8:30 o'clock. There was a bare quorum of eight members present—Councilors Cosgrove, McFadden, Genest, Chadwick, Lambert, Gallagher and Hennessy. Councilors Sullivan, Fitzgerald and Moriarty came in later.

The following names were drawn from the jury box to serve as traverse jurors at a superior court session, by Councilor Cosgrove:

Joseph W. Harrison, 568 School, overpass.

Joseph H. Johnson, 1 Westview, police.

Ed. F. O'Connor, 251 Moore, grocer.

Edward Connor, 48 May, second-hand.

James E. Wiley, 22 Ash, clerk.

Edmond Muttick, 959 Moody, tin-smith.

The Centralville Improvement Association filed with the council a petition containing 2000 signatures, asking for a hearing on a proposition to maintain a waiting room for street railway patrons in rear Kearney square. Date of hearing was set for October 2.

Ten petitions for garage and gasoline licenses were assigned for hearing on Oct. 16.

BIG DEMAND FOR STAMPS

Postmaster Delisle Reports Steady Demand for Harding Memorial Stamps

A steady demand for the Harding Memorial two-cent stamp has been made at the main post office and the various sub-stations since they first were put on sale Saturday. Only 10,000 of these stamps have been received as yet and the postmaster stated today that only a few of these remain on hand. A second consignment of 50,000 of these stamps is expected within a few days and this number will amply satisfy the local demand.

Postmaster Delisle said this morning that there seems to be a mistaken impression in the minds of many local people concerning these stamps. A great many people think the memorial two-cent stamp cannot be used on mail and others think that it costs more than two cents. This is a mistaken impression for the two-cent stamp is used for two cents postage on any kind of mail in this country and it costs but two cents.

NO LIABILITY ON THE PART OF THE TOWN

Although the bid of $334.59 presented to the Town of Tyngsboro by Chief Edward F. Saunders of the Lowell fire department for damages to a pumping engine of the local department sustained while the piece of apparatus was being used at the Vesper Country club fire, will not be disposed of until the chief returns from his vacation, City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds today said as the bill stands he sees no liability on the part of the town. He has not been asked to give an opinion on the matter, but correspondence in the controversy now is on his desk and likely he will be called to settle it eventually.

It is the contention of the chief that inasmuch as the piece of apparatus went out of commission while fighting a fire in Tyngsboro and was being used on request of the town authorities, the town is liable. The amount of $334.59 is the cost of repairs upon the apparatus.

of Thorndike and Hale streets. He said the superintendent of police has taken no notice of these requests and he asked that the clerk again bring it to his attention.

On suggestion of Councilor Cosgrove the city solicitor was instructed to appear before the railroad commission in protest to a contemplated advance in passenger rates equal to 20 per cent.

The following petitions for pole locations were received from the Lowell Electric Light corporation and hearings ordered for October 2: Three poles on Broadway near Dutton street, one pole in Bedford avenue, one pole in South Walker street near I street, one pole in Highland avenue, two poles in New York street and four poles in Gates street.

Similar action was taken on petitions of the N. E. Telephone and Telegraph company for one pole located in Butler avenue and three locations in Carter street.

Hearings were held on the following petitions for garage and gasoline licenses: Omar Deziel, 134 Ford street; Paul Abrahamson, 5 West Third street; Richard J. Meluskey, 258 Methuen street; H. C. La Tuque, rear of 1071 Bridge street; George W. Alexander, 11 Cumber's alley; Annie Kelly, 129 125 Fayette street; Philip J. Laporte, 50 Mammoth road; Fred A. Pilling, Sayles street; Alfred Kay, Randolph street; Romeo D. Marchand, 187 189 Dutton street.

Pavorable action was taken on reports submitted by the board of public service, as follows: On petition of John R. Desrosiers for a sewer in Winthrop avenue, 100 feet from the end of the present sewer to Piny street; on petition of Albert Boisvert for a sewer in Parker street, 600 feet westerly from Piny street, on petition of John R. Desrosiers for a sewer in Bedford avenue, 415 feet to a point near Piny street.

The council took final action on ordinances allowing the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company to relocate its tracks in Nesmith street and at the junction of Dutton and Merrimack streets.

The planning board notified the council of its intention to meet with the council at the meeting to be held on Oct. 2, at which time the accomplishments of the board to date will be reviewed. The board also extended an invitation to the council to attend the lecture to be given by Arthur H. Shurtleff on city planning at Liberty hall on the evening of Sept. 25.

A communication from the school department notified the council it has no further use for the Billings street school.

The election commission forwarded to the council a copy of the 1923 jury list, with instruction to prepare the names thereon for use in the jury box. Max L. Katz was given permission to lay pipes under Middlesex street for the conduct of water from the Hamilton mills to cold Piny street building, providing he files with the city treasurer a security bond in the sum of $1,000.

The clerk was instructed to convey to Councilor Joseph A. N. Chretien, recently injured in an automobile accident, the council's sympathy.

Adjourned at 10:30 o'clock.

Claims were recommended to be paid as follows:

Emma Morrow, personal injuries, $200; Mary Lavin, personal injuries, $200; Jeanette Kirkland, personal injuries, $150; Clara Hayes, personal injuries, $200; Catherine McFadden, personal injuries, $200; Alice Dwyer, personal injuries, $200; Mary Walsh, personal injuries, $200; Mary Sheridan, personal injuries, $200; Peter McNamara, damage to boiler, $50; Geneva Muldoon, personal injuries, $200; Harry Doherty, for legal expenses paid in 1922 when he was removed from office, $75; Mary Curry, personal injuries, $100; Bernard Carey, personal injuries, $200; John Rogers, damage to automobile, $200; Thomas Cassidy, damage to automobile, $200; Thomas Cassidy, damage to automobile, $200; Peter Jussani, damage to spring of automobile, $10.

Special meeting tonight at 7 o'clock to take action on the death of our late brother, Thomas Lacey.

JOHN COSULIVAN, Pres.
THOS. DOHERTY, Fin. Sec.

Special meeting of the Henry Sullivan reception committee was held last night in Liberty hall of the Memorial Auditorium for the purpose of making final arrangements for the reception next Tuesday, or whatever day Henry Sullivan arrives home.

The special meeting was called at short notice because of the fact that information had reached Lowell to the effect that the Sullivan party was leaving England yesterday on board the Leviathan and would arrive in Lowell next Tuesday. Many members of the committee were unable to attend owing to the short notice given.

John J. Flannery, secretary of the committee, called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock and called for an election of a temporary chairman as James J. Brann, chairman, would be unable to attend. Mr. Flannery was elected chairman and John J. Mahoney temporary secretary.

In behalf of the nation committee, Mr. Flannery reported that letters could not be had in time for a tag day before Sullivan returned. He suggested that the committee call for a committee to meet at 8 o'clock on Tuesday to meet Sullivan in New York and come to Boston with him, that at Boston Mr. Sullivan be met by a committee consisting of several representatives of each organization in autos and that he be paraded through Boston to Lowell, where the total population could take part in the reception on the North common. In regard to the committee going to New York, Mr. Flannery said that this committee would most likely be two or three city officials named by the mayor as the general committee could not afford to send anyone.

Stephen C. Garrity, of the American Legion, opposed the idea of sending 30 to 40 machines to Boston as he believed that confusion would result unless permission be had from the traffic director of that city and it would be necessary to get such permission several days in advance. He suggested that the automobiles meet the Sullivan party at Billerica or Tewksbury or some other way station where there is no traffic congestion.

This suggestion met with unanimous approval, and Rogers square was named as the place of meeting. It was further suggested that all associations taking part in the reception line up on Central street from Rogers to Davis squares and that they form in the behind the automobile committee and parade through the city before going to the North common.

A motion was made by Stephen C. Garrity calling for the election of John J. Flannery as chief marshal of the parade, and was immediately seconded. Mr. Flannery declined the nomination as he felt that the committee in naming him might be interfering with the plans of the chairman and others who were not present. Despite this, Mr. Flannery was unanimously elected to the office and he finally accepted. It was then decided to leave the details of the parade in his hands.

Smith J. Adams, president of the committee in charge of the Lowell Kennel club dog show held recently for the benefit of the Sullivan fund, reported on the show and the treasurer, James Kirkpatrick, presented the chair with a check for $54.30, the profit on the show. Other members of the Kennel club who had charge of the show were Joseph Foley, secretary, Patrick Lyons and John MacKenzie. This committee will be in charge of the fund-raising campaign for the Sullivan fund. A Harry H. Hadden, Mayor of Lowell, secretary, suggested that a torchlight parade be held but his suggestion did not meet with general approval. It was then moved and seconded that the parade start at 7 o'clock in the evening of whatever day Sullivan returns home. This was unanimously accepted and the people would have time to go to their homes for supper and then line up for the parade.

A motion was made that no banquet be held in connection with the reception and was unanimously carried by the vote of the committee.

In connection with the tag day, some discussion followed as to who would do the collecting. As a committee is already working on this part of the tag day, it was decided to leave the decision in their hands.

Joseph J. Foley announced in behalf of Thomas Lacey that the latter will present a suitable award to the girl collecting the most money Saturday. Mr. Foley was given a rising vote of thanks for his generosity, and the Trades and Labor council was also given a vote of thanks for donating 50 collection boxes for use on tag day. Mr. Flannery then announced that the A.O.U. hall had been offered and accepted for the headquarters of the tag sellers and the A.O.U. was also given a vote of thanks.

The delegation from the O.M.I. Catholics announced that their football team would play a benefit game Sunday at Alumni field if the field could be obtained. Mr. Bennett Silverblatt, a member of the Alumni field committee of the Lowell High School alumni, was delegated to find out if the field could be used for such a purpose on next Sunday.

After a discussion of several minor matters, the meeting was adjourned until next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The delegation from the O.M.I. Catholics announced that their football team would play a benefit game Sunday at Alumni field if the field could be obtained. Mr. Bennett Silverblatt, a member of the Alumni field committee of the Lowell High School alumni, was delegated to find out if the field could be used for such a purpose on next Sunday.

After a discussion of several minor matters, the meeting was adjourned until next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

BRITISH REPLY TO SEC. HUGHES' SHIP LIQUOR PROPOSAL EXPRESSES GENERAL DISAPPROVAL

U. S. Sought Reciprocal Agreement to Curb Rum-Running—Possibility of Negotiating a Double-Barreled Treaty

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The British reply to Secretary Hughes' proposal for a reciprocal agreement on ship liquor and liquor smuggling was received at the state department today and was described by officials as "in general, not sympathetic to the proposals." The British government plans, however, to present the question to the British imperial conference, which meets in London next month. State department officials view the British communication as leaving open the possibility of negotiating a double-barreled treaty to curb rum-running and also to facilitate legitimate liquor shipments in foreign bottoms. There was no attempt, however, to disguise the fact that the British government had indicated general disapproval of the plan and raised objections against it.

Since ships chiefly concerned in the liquor controversy and the smuggling operations have been of British registry other countries have deferred answers pending disclosure of the British viewpoint. As far as known, the Washington government has received no official intimation of the attitude of any of the other governments to which the draft treaty was communicated.

CONFERENCE ARRANGED WITH VIEW OF ENDING NEW YORK STRIKE

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Striking pressmen of the leading New York morning and afternoon newspapers whose action in leaving their posts at midnight Monday has hampered publication of the newspapers since then, today appointed a committee of five men to meet with representatives of the owners of the newspapers and of the International Printing Pressmen's & Assistants' union with a view toward settling the strike.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—A meeting between George L. Berry of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union and officers of the New York Web Pressmen's union No. 25, called for noon today, offered virtually the only hope of settlement of the strike of pressmen which has materially curtailed publication of most of the city's leading daily newspapers. Mr. Berry, in a letter sent to the local union last night, ordered the men to return to work. Early this morning he had received no answer.

Doctors Indicted in Tyngsboro Suit- case Murder Held Without Bail and Remanded to Jail

Bowen, Who Attempted Suicide, Out of Danger—Nurse
Sought in Connection With Case Found and Eliminated
—Springfield Garage Employee Says Dr. Robb Left Orders to Have Car Washed—Urged Particular Attention Be Given Rubber Floor Mat—Search for Missing Head Resumed

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 19. Dr. Dalva A. Swope of Brockton, indicted yesterday as an accessory before and after the fact to the murder of Mrs. Alice M. Wolschendorf, appeared with his attorney at the courthouse here at 12.25 p. m. today.

Dr. Swope and his attorney, James W. Murdoch of Brockton, went immediately into conference with District Attorney Arthur K. Reading.

Dr. Swope was brought into court this afternoon and on motion of District Attorney Reading, was held without bail for arraignment at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when Dr. Robb also will be arraigned. The district attorney told the court that he would make a motion later that the case be put on the trial list for October.

Dr. Swope was remanded to the East Cambridge jail. Dr. Robb is also held there without bail.

It was understood that search would be resumed today for the woman's head and it was intimated that state police would turn their attention to some point in New Hampshire.

Nurse Found and Eliminated

The state police today reported that the nurse for whom a search had been carried on throughout Massachusetts and New Hampshire after the finding of portions of Mrs. Wolschendorf's dismembered body in two suitcases in the Merrimack river two weeks ago had been found and eliminated from the case. The nurse, a former resident of Springfield, admitted having been employed by Dr. William J. Bowen, who has been indicted for murder in connection with the case. She said, however, that she had been married several years ago and since then had not been employed by the physician.

Robb Ordered Car Washed

Walter Walker, employed in the Springfield garage where Dr. Robb stored his automobile on the night of Sept. 6, had also been questioned, the state officers announced. Walker told the police that Dr. Robb had arrived at the garage late at night, asked to have his car stored and said that he would "be around in the morning."

He left orders to have the car washed, Walker said, requesting particularly that the rubber floor mat be washed, and explaining that he had spilled gingerale on the mat. Walker did not see Dr. Robb again.

Bowen Out of Danger

BROCKTON, Sept. 19.—The name of William P. Bowen, implicated in the Tyngsboro suit case mystery, for which Doctors Robb and Swope are being held, had his name removed from the danger list at the Brockton hospital this noon. Bowen, who is considered a material witness, and who has not as yet been placed under arrest, attempted suicide Sunday by slashing his throat and drinking poison.

Grand Jury—Other Cases in the District Court Today

Richard H. Baldwin, a 20-year-old youth who resides in Watertown, was sentenced to one month in the house of correction and ordered to pay a fine of $100 by Judge Enright in district court this morning on a charge of operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. For drunkenness he was fined $5. He appealed and was held in surities of $400.

Herbert F. Jacobs of Billerica testified that he was driving a Ford sedan on the Billerica highway on Aug. 28, and that the defendant, who was driving a Ford roadster, crashed into him.

Jacobs said that Baldwin was driving a Ford sedan on the highway on Aug. 28, and that the defendant, who was driving a Ford roadster, crashed into him. Baldwin said he had been at a camp at Nutting's pond, where he had two drinks of Italian wine. He was all right when he started home, he said, but shortly before the accident he began to get drowsy and had a hard time to keep awake.

Mr. Jacobs estimated his damage at $152.35, which included medical aid furnished his wife and father-in-law, both of whom were injured in the crash. He further said that the defendant disappeared shortly after the accident.

Chief Livingsstone of the Billerica police testified that Baldwin was found lying by the side of the road, about a mile from the scene of the accident, about 5 o'clock in the morning. He said Baldwin was drunk at the time.

PART OF WARD'S STORY UNTRUE

Chief Counsel for Accused Man Makes Admission at Murder Trial

Witnesses Tell of Finding of Slain Man's Body on Roadside

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 19.—The drama being enacted in the Westchester county courthouse in the trial of Walter S. Ward, millionaire banker, for the murder of Clarence Peters, former interest today because of the admission yesterday of Isaac N. Mills, chief counsel for the defense, that part of Ward's story could not be true.

Mr. Mills made the admission in an argument for reduction of the murder degree charged against his client.

Told of Finding Body

The state yesterday began weaving the net of circumstances by which it plans to convict Walter S. Ward, son of the millionaire banker of the murder of Clarence Peters, ex-marine.

After Supreme Court Justice Wagner, who is presiding at the trial, had denied the motion of the defense for the dismissal of the first degree murder charge, the prosecution brought forward three witnesses, two of whom testified regarding the finding of Peters' body on a lonely Westchester road nearly 17 months ago. The third was Dr. Harry J. Vier, who told of the autopsy which he performed.

Pale and impressive Ward looked no less active and apparently under greater strain than while the jury was being chosen. He, his wife and brother, Ralph, who sat near, were the center of interest for the several hundred spectators who packed the courtroom to the doors. Fully half of the audience consisted of women, many of whom were getting under way in a room on the floor below, the extraordinary grand jury which had returned the indictment against Ward.

had reconvened and was hearing the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Peters, of Haverhill, Mass., parents of the slain youth. Another witness called to the grand jury was James J. Cunningham, who is reported to have said that Peters was murdered in the Ward home at New Rochelle.

The first witness for the prosecution was Duncan H. Rose, White Plains druggist, who said he found the body lying at right angles to the road, on its back, feet together, toes up and the arms against the sides. He said the vest was fully buttoned.

Harry Green, the first state patrolman to reach the spot, testified he found a bullet hole through the back of the vest and coat while the bullet had passed out, but no hole in the front of the vest or coat. The bullet passed through the shirt and underclothing both in the front and back, he said. The witness said a thorough search for the bullet failed to locate it.

GREEK FLEET SALUTES ALLIES

Measure of Apology Prescribed by Allies for Janina Murders Carried Out

Incident Which for a Time Threatened Peace of Balkans Regarded as Closed

ATHENS, Sept. 18. Greece today discharged the measure of apology prescribed by the allies for the Janina murders and the incident which for a time threatened the peace of the Balkans is regarded as closed.

At 10 o'clock this morning the allied squadron led by the Italian warship Conte di Cavour steamed through the haze into Phaleron harbor where the waiting Greek ships rendered a salute of 21 guns to each flag.

At the same hour memorial services were celebrated at the Roman Catholic cathedral in Athens in the presence of the Greek cabinet and the allied diplomats, while at Preveza, the bodies of the murdered Italian boundary commissioners were embarked for Italy with military, naval and civil honors.

Examined Green in an effort to show that the body was moved and the vest buttoned between the time Rose found it and Green arrived. He also tested Green's memory, claiming that his present testimony was at a variance with that given by him before the grand jury. He read from the grand jury proceedings in an attempt to show several variations.

Dr. Vier testified he found a bullet wound in the center of the chest and another three inches lower on the back. He said the bullet passed through the heart.

BLAME RADIO FOR DISASTER

Bits of Evidence Picked From Air Form Backbone of Testimony at Inquiry

Signals Received Indicated Squadron's Position North of Point Arguello

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 19.—Bits of evidence plucked from the air near point Arguello on the night of Sept. 8, last, when seven destroyers crashed on the rocks a few miles north of that promontory, are expected to form the backbone of testimony presented to the naval court of inquiry investigating the disaster when it resumes its sessions here today.

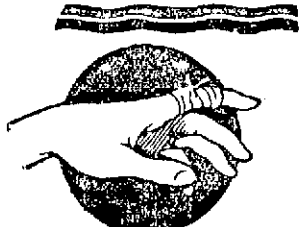

From the lips of radiomen came yesterday in the fragmentary form of messages they sent or received during the hours just preceding the wreck, a story of repeated radio signals indicating the squadron's position some distance north of Point Arguello, a considerable distance above the point where it was seen to have been sent eastward into Santa Barbara channel.

Two minutes after the last of such signals was received, witnesses testified, Commander Donald D. Hunter, captain of the squadron, flagship Delphy, ordered a change of course to the east which buried seven vessels head-on into the rocks of Point Arguello.

Just how the fatal orders came to be issued, and who was responsible for the apparent misunderstanding of the radio signals, remained one of the questions which today's and other sessions of the court were expected to answer.

Testimony of radio men on the Delphy that they had been having trouble with their wireless for several hours before the crash, that the air was crowded with messages interfering with their attempts to obtain radio compass bearings from point Arguello, indicating the squadron position; and that they sometimes waited as long as 10 minutes for such direction signals, indicated some of the possible avenues of explanation.

SECOND ROUND AT FLOSSMOOR

Jess Sweetser Matches His Skill With Dave Herron of Chicago

If Successful He Will Meet Either Guilford or Dexter Cummings

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—In the second round match of the national amateur golf championship at Flossmoor, today, Jess Sweetser of New York, present champion, matched his skill with Dave Herron of Chicago, national champion three years ago, and if successful today, had the prospect of contesting his crown with either Jesse Guilford of Boston, winner of the title two years ago, or Dexter Cummings of Chicago, intercollegiate champion.

In the lower half of the upper bracket with Sweetser, Bob Gardner of Chicago, twice amateur national champion, played W. C. Fowles of Pittsburgh, who won the title several years ago.

Working towards the semi-finals in the other half of the pairings Bobby Jones of Atlanta, national open champion, played Max Baer of Philadelphia, champion of Pennsylvania. The last quarter of the bracket brought together Francis Ouimet of Boston, former national open and amateur champion, and Willie Hunter of Los Angeles, British amateur champion in 1921, who defeated Chick Evans of Chicago yesterday.

After a day of hectic golf that threatened the extinction of several favorites, all the national and former national champions survived the first round of match play at 36 holes in the national amateur championship at Flossmoor yesterday except Chick Evans of Chicago, who was eliminated by Willie Hunter of Los Angeles, former British titleholder, 2 and 1.

Only three of the matches were one-sided, including the overwhelming victory of the titleholder Jess Sweetser of New York, who defeated Albert Sackel, of Chicago, once intercollegiate champion, 10 to 6. George von Elm, of Salt Lake City, formerly Trans-Mississippi champion, defeated Capt. E. P. Carter, of Chicago, formerly Irish champion, 5 and 7, by shooting the first round in 71 or three better than par. The other easy match went to H. E. Davis, of Chicago, who bested George Blossom of Chicago, 7 and 5.

The national open champion, Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., did not have an easy time winning from T. B. Cochran, of Wichita Falls, Tex., 2 and 1. At one time the Georgian was down to the Texan, but Cochran never got a commanding lead.

An even narrower escape was the experience of Jesse Guilford, of Boston, titleholder three years ago, for Louis Jacoby, of Dallas, not only held him even for 18 holes, but after losing a hole to Guilford on the third nine, yielded no further, taking the Bostonian to the 36th green where he won 1 up by halving that hole.

Francis Ouimet, of Boston, the tamer of Vardon and Ray in 1913, lost the morning round to Anthony Haines of Rockford, Ill., being one down to the former Yale athlete at noon, but he took four holes from Haines in the first half of the afternoon session and turned into the home stretch three up, only to lose part of the advantage and finally finish winner 2 and 1.

TO TEST AUTHORITY OF OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—Marital law rule over Oklahoma appeared rapidly to be approaching a climax today with attention momentarily focused on Tulsa, where Governor Walton's authority to suspend the right of recourse to habeas corpus will be tested.

Meanwhile, state legislators are gathering here to perfect plans for an extraordinary session of the authority in defiance of Governor Walton. No secret is made of the fact that if the legislature convenes impeachment proceedings will be instituted against the governor should sufficient basis for charges be found.

100 Cases of Mob Violence
TULSA, Okla., Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—Officers of the military commission appointed by Governor Walton in mid-August to investigate floggings in Tulsa county, today outlined their work from the beginning to the present time.

More than 100 cases of mob violence, some by hooded men, have come to the attention of the investigators, they said, and more than 3000 pages of testimony have been prepared for submission to the attorney general of Oklahoma.

Approximately four hundred witnesses "who have experienced these floggings in one form or another," in Tulsa county, in most cases within the last six months, have appeared before the commission, the officers reported. To date 30 men have been indicted by the filing of informations in the district court. One of the members of the commission declared that his work would end "when the last man of the law-breakers is in the penitentiary."

Of the 30 men indicted, six have been granted preliminary hearings in the civil courts and have been held in bonds for criminal trial.

Yesterday the commission heard 15 witnesses, and filed one new information charging riot, Morris Evans and Jake Hyde were named for participation in a flogging May 26, at the home of L. A. Cook in the county. The information charged that Evans and Hyde, with other persons unknown, attacked Cook's home, riddled the house with bullets, abducted and flogged Cook and mistreated his wife.

TEXTILE FOOTBALL SQUAD ROUNDING INTO SHAPE

Captain Arthur Ball's Lowell Textile school football squad is rapidly rounding into shape and although the candidates have been on the green but three, the majority of them are in excellent physical condition, said Coach Ball this morning. Practice sessions to date have been devoted to running back plays and handling the ball. Scrimmages will start in a few days and continue until the season's first contest, that with Tufts at the Medford oval on Sept. 29.

Coach Ball, who is starting his second year as teacher of football at Lowell, has a veteran squad with which to work. Only three men were lost to the team through graduation, but owing to the difficult courses at the school new candidates are scarce. Capt. "Pop" Olson, who is assisting the coach in the direction of the team, is in better shape than ever before and is confident of a big season. Olson is exceptionally fast for a big fellow and was one of Lowell's best ground runners last year. Thom. Villa, Smith, Mitchell, Scrimmages, Harmon and Feindel, all letter men, are back at school and participate in practice daily. With this nucleus, a successful season is looked for.

"Bill" Brosnan is the only Lowell man on the squad. He played end position last year and will probably be assigned to the same place when the referee's whistle announces the beginning of the Tufts game.

LOWELL HIGH'S FOOTBALL PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Lowell high's football prospects for the coming year became more promising yesterday afternoon when a squad of 40 candidates, the largest group of the season, reported to Coach Liston at Alumni field and went through a series of formations in preparation for the first game on the 1923 schedule with Nashua high in the up-river city a week from Saturday. Practice sessions to date have been more or less of a limbo, with variety, although a light scrimmage was engaged in yesterday, with two complete eleven lined up against each other.

The candidates were divided into two teams, A and B. Team A being composed of veterans and first-string possibilities, who registered four touchdowns at the expense of their lighter and more inexperienced opponents. On Team A Smith and Lawton worked the end positions, Barron and Cavanaugh played the tackles, Heron center, Higgins and Ryan, guards, McHale quarterback, Collins and Kelly, halfbacks, and Merrill, fullback. Team B was composed of Koziolek and Phelps as ends, Sullivan and Daughue, tackles, McMahon and Kelle, guards, Desmond, quarterback, Burke and Allard, halfbacks, and O'Neil, fullback. Coach Liston stated this morning that the line now working for Team A will probably start the season against Nashua. The backfield will undergo changes, he said.

In the school corridors this morning it was rumored that Ralph Willard, star punter of last season and a great little fullback, is considering a return to high school. Willard had been undecided as to whether he would spend another year in Lowell or attend a private school. He will prove a welcome addition to the Red and Gray squad this season. The team is sorely in need of a good punter and Willard will fill the gap to perfection.

Another star destined to make gridiron history this fall is Leo "Flash" McHale, who reported to the coach for the first time yesterday and performed at quarterback for Team A. McHale starred in baseball for the high school last spring and also worked out with the freshmen eleven last football. He is light but knows the game and should prove a capable mentor. Other veterans who got into action yesterday are Cavanaugh, Ryan and Barron, three experienced linemen.

Dummy tackling, signal practice and scrimmages will constitute the practice periods until the season gets under way. The coach is desirous that all candidates for the team seek to it throughout the season. Opportunities will come and several men will be used in every game when necessity requires. Every candidate is eligible for the "L" given at the end of the season. He doesn't have to be a first-string man to get this award.

While the variety team is rehearsing the Freshman-Sophomore team is doing likewise under the direction of Coach Arthur Lynch. About 30 men were out in uniform yesterday and indications point to a strong eleven.

CARD OF THANKS
I desire to express my sincere thanks to my kind relatives and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown to me in the death of my beloved mother. I will ever hold them one and all in grateful remembrance.

Young Man Fined And Sentenced

He admitted going away after the accident and explained this by saying he was alone and did not care to argue with Jacobs. He sat down on the road and fell asleep and remained asleep until awakened by the officer.

Judge Enright in passing sentence said that he established a rule that jail sentences would be imposed in all cases where injuries or damages resulted from the operations of a drunken auto driver on the highway and therefore ordered the defendant committed.

Found Probable Cause
Probable cause was found against George Bonifant on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon Spiros Zaglaniakas, and he was ordered bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $300.

The case was due to be heard yesterday, but the complainant was not present and Judge Enright ordered a capias to be issued. This morning the complainant was questioned as to his failure to present himself yesterday and he said that another man told him he didn't need to go to court. The court then ordered that the complainant be fined $10 for contempt of court.

Later, however, this fine was remitted, when it appeared that the complainant put in an appearance about noon yesterday, before the capias had been served on him.

In remitting the fine, however, the court said that foreigners must be made to realize they cannot trifle with the workings of the court and that when an offense had been committed against the law, they must also be made to realize that they cannot get together in a coffee house and settle matters among themselves, as was evident in this case, he said.

The case is of long standing. It is alleged assault having been committed in July of 1922, but it was only recently that the defendant was arrested. It appeared that there had been an argument between the two men in a coffee house on Market street, and the complainant said that he slapped the defendant in the face. The latter left the coffee house, but returned shortly after and fired a shot at the complainant. The shot missed its mark, however, and the defendant then made his escape.

Other Offenders
Joseph Denault pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal keeping liquor, and a fine of $100 was imposed.
Nora McGuinness pleaded not guilty to a charge of keeping a house of ill fame and Pauline Lombardy pleaded guilty to a charge of being a lewd person. At the request of their counsel, the cases were continued until Sept. 29.
Andrew Desjardins pleaded guilty to a charge of non-support of his child, but after a warning by the court he agreed to contribute to its support. The child is now being cared for by a aunt. Desjardins was sentenced to six months, but this was suspended for two years, with the understanding that he pay $10 each week for the support of the child.

TRAIN OF OAKLANDS ON LONG JOURNEY

In dispatching a fleet of their new 1924 models to every section of the United States and Canada from the factories at Pontiac, Michigan, September 8, the Oakland Motor company inaugurated one of the most unique and thorough demonstrations of a line of motor cars probably ever attempted in the automotive industry.

It was gala day in Pontiac, where nearly half the population of the city and the entire factory force of 3500 turned out to wish the 1924 Oakland True Blue Travelers "Godspeed" as they whirled off on their journey to points on the Pacific and Atlantic coast, the Canadian border and the Gulf of Mexico.

As the cars halted in front of the Oakland administration building, the drivers were given short parking talks by George H. Hannum, president of the company, and C. J. Nephler, general sales manager. Each driver received letters from Mr. Hannum to be delivered personally to all Oakland branches and distributors along the routes. Motor Kits also gave the boys a parting word with letters to be delivered to the mayors of cities at the end of the long tours.

The Oakland factory band led the fleet of travel cars, which were followed by other models of the new line through to last night several weeks made in the smaller towns enroute. In the parade into Detroit the owners of Oakland cars joined the procession. After circling the General Motors building, the True Blue Travelers were halted in front of the building after which they were dispatched by General Motors officials to the various points of the compass.

The long tours of the new 1924 Oakland models are being made to demonstrate the performance which can be expected from the new Oakland Six as well as the many new features that tend to make motor car driving safer for both the motorist and the pedestrian.

In most of the places through which the cars pass, police department officials will be given a demonstration of the better control devices in the new models, particularly the four wheel brakes and the hand controls centralized on the steering wheel.

The demonstration of the four wheel brakes will show the additional safety provided in the new models on wet pavements at times when the application of the ordinary two wheel brakes would mean a skid and also the quick, sure braking power on steep hills and in crowded city streets.

The centralized arrangement of all the operating controls on the steering wheel instead of the dash tends to cut down the possibility of mishap since it is not necessary for the driver to remove his hands from the steering wheel to shift gears. The fact that a driver can shift lights from "dim" to "bright" and back without reaching to the dash, is of particular value in night driving when many serious accidents occur.

The fleet of travelers sent out on this demonstration are all stock models and each car had run many thousands of miles before starting out. The Oakland 15,000 mile engine guarantee is also in effect on the new models as well as the special mileage basis plan.

THE AUTOMOBILE IN THE MOVIES

"The Story of an Automobile" moving picture, to be shown at Liberty Hall tomorrow is alive with human interest.

Machines representing the last word in manufacturing efficiency perform spectacular operations of almost every conceivable description.

Red hot steel is forged into axle shafts by a few blows from gigantic steam hammers. Molten metal is cast into intricate designs. Bars of steel are cut by a huge knife as if they were paper, and specimen propeller shafts are twisted until they break to be sure that they are capable of withstanding a strain far beyond anything the most excessive road use would demand.

This film was produced under the direction of the United States department of commerce in co-operation with The Studebaker Corporation and will be shown in all parts of the world. It was photographed in the new $30,000,000 Studebaker plant at South Bend, Indiana.

The story is told in an inspiring and simple way and shows, in an intensely interesting manner, the many operations used in the building of an automobile. The picture follows the assembly line with units

The Story of An Automobile

Here's an intimate story of automobile building that will appeal to everyone who has ever ridden in a motor car.

It's even more interesting than an actual trip through an automobile factory because the camera pictures details which would escape the eye. It abounds in human interest, with many thrills and in many cases real excitement.

You see the various parts transformed from the red-hot metal to the finished unit. You follow the final assembly line in operation with units added in logical order, each unit being traced throughout its manufacture before the next is applied.

This film was produced under the direction of the United States Department of Commerce in co-operation with the Studebaker Corporation and will be shown in all parts of the world. It is an education in manufacturing efficiency.

BUICK TURNING OUT ITS GREATEST CAR

After months and months of hard and intelligent effort the Buick organization feels that it has designed, tested and is now manufacturing the greatest car offered in the 20 years of its automobile experience. That the public present in accord with that opinion is, of course, immensely gratifying. Buick has been building automobiles for 20 years and during that time has turned out, up to July 1, 1923, a total of 1,060,226 cars. Experience is the best teacher—and many skilled men who came with Buick 20 years ago are still learning how to build better Buicks each year.

LAND FOR DEVELOPMENT OF CEMETERIES

The board of cemetery commissioners has under consideration an offer for the purchase of 15 additional acres of land from the estate of the late Erastus Bartlett, which, if secured, will mark a forward step in the further development of the Westlawn and Edison cemeteries along lines of landscape architecture.

Although this offer now only has been made to William H. Rigby, chairman of the board, he will present it to the commission at its next meeting and personally will urge its acceptance, as he feels it is most reasonable and will constitute a forward-looking acquisition.

Spreading of the 15 acres in question today, Chairman Rigby said if the commission votes to purchase them it will allow a new Edison cemetery entrance at the junction of Boston road and Carleton street as well as giving to the Westlawn cemetery a beautiful tract of land, rolling in type and including a fine pine grove. This type of undulating land is something of which the Edison cemetery cannot now boast, and Mr. Rigby feels it would add greatly to the beauty and general appearance of the grounds.

The offer has been made to Mr. Rigby by John A. Sawyer, administrator of the Bartlett estate, who also sold to the commission the 17-acre tract purchased earlier this year.

Proceedings in Central Bridge Case Dismissed

ther heard at this sitting and was argued by counsel and thereupon, upon consideration thereof, it is judged, ordered and decreed that the petition be dismissed. The respondents to recover costs against the petitioners, said costs to be taxed as in an action at law by the clerk and execution to issue therefor.

Inasmuch as the costs are to be taxed as in an action at law, it is not believed they will bulk very large. This case is a sister case of the restraint action brought by Mr. Connors against the city in relation to the construction of the new high school.

The case first was in the superior court and was heard by two masters before going to a single justice of the supreme court. With the issuance of a final decree and a dismissal of the petition, money due the Engineering Service and Construction company will be paid by the city in due course of time.

ANOTHER STORMY SESSION OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Warm Discussion Over Adoption of New Rules as Prepared by Sub-Committee—Action on Sections Having to Do With Authority of Superintendent Deferred—Mr. Molloy Asks for Public Hearing—Mrs. Pearson Makes Plea for Fair Play

In the course of a warm discussion over the adoption of the new set of rules last evening, Supt. Hugh J. Molloy made a verbal request to the school board that he be given a hearing and that no action be taken on the amendments which affect his status and powers until such time as the hearing has been held. During the evening Mr. Molloy reiterated his request several times, but no action was taken. This was at a special meeting of the school board called for the members were present. The new rules as presented by the special committee were taken up and every chapter and section was discussed at considerable length. In the early part of the discussion Mrs. Pearson asked if any of the employees of the department had been consulted by the committee on rules before the rules affecting them had been drawn up, but her question remained unanswered. Each member of the school board as well as the superintendent and business agent had typewritten copies of the proposed new rules and each section was taken up by number. Inasmuch as no copies of the rules were provided the press, it is impossible today to state which sections were approved and which were referred for further consideration.

As soon as action of some sort was taken on a section Mr. Delaney moved the adoption of the next section and in practically every case a live discussion followed. On most of the sections affecting the status and powers of the superintendent, action was deferred until two weeks, but only after lengthy discussions. It seemed that Mr. Mullin held the key to the situation last evening, or in other words, his was the deciding vote, for Messrs. Bruin and Delaney and Dr. Slaughter voted together in favor of practically every motion, while the votes of Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Riley and the mayor in practically every instance were in opposition to the motion. Mr. Mullin sided from one side to the other and in most instances cast the deciding vote. In shifting his vote with that of Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Riley and the mayor, Mr. Mullin stated that his action was in fairness to all as he desired to give the mayor more time to study certain sections of the rules, as he said he knew His Honor was a very busy man and was unable to give the matter his due consideration.

Mr. Molloy Speaks
When the first section affecting the status and powers of the superintendent came up for discussion, Mr. Molloy requested the privilege of being heard and his request was granted. He said: "As the question comes on adopting an amendment that affects the standing of the superintendent and as I believe that the proposed changes are brought about for some reason, I respectfully ask the committee to grant me the privilege of a public hearing before adopting such rules. I object to the matter as a whole, and I feel that there is not an employee of the department who hasn't a right to ask for a hearing in any matter that vitally concerns his status and obligations. If these rules are to be approved, it seems I am making only a reasonable request and the committee should set a date for the hearing and give me ample time to prepare for it."

Mr. Bruin said this was a new form of defeating motions. "I am ready to vote on the matter now," he said.

Mr. Riley said he did not believe the board would want a request in writing from the superintendent for what he has a legal right to demand. Mr. Delaney argued that there were no charges against the superintendent nor against the secretary. He could see no reason for a public hearing. He further stated that last year the superintendent was elected temporary secretary of the board and at that time no hearing was asked. "This is the most ridiculous thing I ever heard," he said. Mr. Molloy stated that his was a fair request and said he was entitled to it. "If you wish to treat me fairly," he continued, "you will grant my request."

Mr. Bruin said he looked over the newspaper files several years back and failed to read anything about hearings.

Mr. Molloy: "If the gentleman (pointing to Mr. Bruin) continues to insult me, I will ask for redress, as I do not propose to be insulted any further."

After more discussion it was finally voted to postpone action on the section involved for two weeks. When another section pertaining to the records was brought up for adoption, Mr. Molloy asked as to who has the custody of the records of the department, and Mr. Bruin replied that the proposed change does not affect the keeping of the records. This section was also deferred for further consideration.

At 10:35 o'clock several members of the city council entered the room and most of them remained until the close of the meeting as spectators.

Mrs. Pearson's Statement
At this point Mrs. Pearson made the following statement:

"I asked earlier in the meeting to—

Suffered Breakdown After Husband's Death

"During my husband's illness I had practically worn myself out through work and worry, and so when he passed away, I had almost reached a state of collapse. I would feel so exhausted that it was all I could do to get about, and yet when night came I could get no sleep. I was fearfully nervous—the least little thing would make me jump."

"I read one day about Wincarnis and decided to try it, and it certainly has done wonders for me. I began to improve wonderfully and by the time I had taken the first bottle my appetite had come back. I was much less nervous and was getting some sleep at night. I have taken only a few bottles and now I am entirely well. My husband is gone and I really feel like a new woman."

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

The directors of the Massachusetts state chamber of commerce will meet tonight in the Hotel Bancroft, Worcester, to take action on the report of the joint committee on New England railroads, appointed by the governors of the New England states, which favors the consolidation of all New England railroads into one system.

The Lowell members of the directors of the state chamber are S. H. Thompson, William K. Goodell and George F. Wells, and they will attend the meeting this evening.

The hearing before the interstate commerce commission on the consolidation of the New England railroads will be held in Boston beginning next Monday and the action taken on the matter at tonight's meeting of the directors of the state chamber will be presented to the commission at that time.

locked up in the East Cambridge jail last night, to await arraignment on Thursday on an indictment charging first degree murder. The physician was indicted yesterday by the Middlesex court grand jury in connection with the death of Mrs. Alice M. Wolchendorf of East Bridgewater, parts of whose body were found in the Merrimack river at Tenshoro September 1 and 2 continued in two suitcases.

Another physician, Dr. Dalva A. Swope of Brockton, also was indicted in connection with the same case. He was charged in two counts with being an accessory before and after the fact. State police officers who went to Brockton to arrest Dr. Swope yesterday, returned reporting that they could not find him. Later the physician's attorney telephoned District Attorney Reading of Middlesex county that his client would surrender today. Both men were arrested last Friday. Dr. Robb on the charge of illegal surgery and Dr. Swope as an accessory before the fact. Both entered pleas of not guilty when arraigned in Lowell Saturday and were admitted to bail. Then came the grand jury special session and yesterday's indictments.

Before the action of the grand jury became known, Dr. Robb was seen to leave his residence in the Back Bay district of Boston, and the report spread that he was leaving the city. The police ordered all roads watched. Later in the day, however, the physician appeared with his attorney at the courthouse here and was closeted for an hour with the district attorney. He was placed under arrest.

Dr. Robb was taken at once before Judge Frederick J. McLeod in superior court. He took his place in the prisoner's cage and his name was called by the clerk. He was turned over to the custody of the sheriff until further order of the court. After a brief conference between judge and counsel, Robb was brought back to the courtroom and District Attorney Reading moved for immediate arraignment, stating that a special venire of jurors had been called for October and that he wished to have the physician's case placed before the court at that time. Robb's counsel asked for arraignment Thursday so that he might study the indictment. He said his client desired a speedy trial. The judge fixed Thursday for Robb's arraignment.

State police officers left today for southern New Hampshire in an effort to find the head and other missing parts of Mrs. Wolchendorf's body, the camp in the woods at which they profess to believe the body was dismembered, and a nurse, said to be in retirement in New Hampshire, who is believed to have been present when an alleged illegal operation was performed on the woman.

Jews Observe

spent in prayer and meditation. For the full twenty-four hours food and drink are abstained from.

The holy day is ushered in with the Kol Nidre services sung by the choir in all houses of worship. Another feature is the memorial service marked by the reading of prayers. The Nefila prayers constitute the closing service of the day.

The Services in Lowell

Rabbi Elias Wolfson will conduct the services in Lowell. The principal services will be conducted in the Sons of Montefiore synagogue at 129 Howard street. Similar services will also be conducted under Rabbi Wolfson in Kehila Jacob synagogue, 8 McIntire street, and Oshai Sifard synagogue, 143 Howard street.

At sunset tonight the Jewish people will gather for the first service, which will last for about three hours. Then they will go to their homes, returning to the synagogues at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning to spend the day in prayer and meditation as contemplated by the law and customs of the faith.

Harvest Festival Next Week

Following closely upon the Yom

Kippur services is the Feast of the Ingathering, known also as the Feast of the Tabernacles or Succoth, which will be observed for one week beginning next Monday evening and concluding at sunset on Tuesday, October 2. Probably because it follows so closely upon the great religious holy days of the Synagogue this harvest feast attracts less attention than its intrinsically meritorious. For despite its primitive origin and agricultural setting Succoth is capable of yielding the modern worshipper sober joy and a spiritually sublimating message.

Its Biblical basis is Deuteronomy 16:13-14 where it is said "Thou shalt keep the Feast of Tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in from thy threshing floor and from thy winepress. And thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy man-servant, and thy maid servant, and the Levite, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow that are within thy gates." Reference to the Feast of the Tabernacles is also made in Leviticus 23:34-42, and in other parts of the Pentateuch.

Rain Asked in Ancient Days

It is held that our national Thanksgiving Day is directly patterned on this ancient harvest festival—that the Pilgrim Fathers, being earnest and devout scripture readers, transferred the Harvest Festival of Israel to our own American environment.

In connection with the protracted drought which is worrying farmers and others in this section it is apropos to for a moment turn back to the days of ancient Israel when it was customary during the festival to offer prayers for rain and dew. There is an obscure reference to this custom in the last chapter of Zechariah. The popular outburst of joy there mentioned is re-echoed throughout the liturgy of the Harvest Festival.

Both in the synagogue and in the home the feast bears a joyous aspect. It is the season of gladness; the worshiper is reminded of and impressed with God's goodness and mercies which endure forever. According to the preachment the feast of Succoth is the message of Israel to humanity on the dignity of labor and the value of the toil by which we earn our daily bread. Particularly stressed on this feast is the notion of God's protection over Israel throughout the centuries. It is pointed out that as God protected Israel through the forty years of his wandering in the wilderness, so hath God shielded him during the centuries of his subsequent pilgrimages over the earth.

Decorate For Occasion

During Succoth week it is customary in American synagogues to decorate the places of worship with harvest symbols such as fruits and flowers and grain. Some congregations even erect a booth as the prime symbol of the occasion, reminding all that Israel was a pilgrim and a laborer in the vineyard of the Lord, preparing in isolation and seclusion for the larger service to humanity which was to follow.

School Board Meeting

night if any of the heads of departments had been consulted by the committee on rules before these rules affecting them had been drawn up. I have been told that none of them, not even the superintendent, our paid expert on educational matters, had been consulted. Now seems to me to be a very serious matter. The school committee should first hear from these experts before they who are totally inexperienced, should undertake to alter their status as superintendent, supervisors, masters or teachers.

"I was informed by one member of the rules committee that these rules are not the result of their own efforts, which compilation of rules is already responsible. Take, for instance, the requirement to visit every school once a month. I should like to ask why we would then need Miss Lee, our supervisor of kindergartens—for what is she engaged but to do that very thing?"

"May I ask what the superintendent is to do when he does visit the schools. Is he only to walk in and remove his hat and walk out again, or is he to be notified with every school activity and delay the school work for that day? Taking one week out of every month for visiting schools leaves only fifteen days for the superintendent to collect information on the six other required reports of the committee, and when are the real educational problems to be solved—and who is to solve them?"

"I may be wrong, but I like the school organization to any great corporation, with our superintendent as the general manager, our supervisors, masters and teachers his superintendents, the 5500 children in the school system his operatives for whom the whole organization exists—for we must ever remember that the schools of Lowell are first, last, and always for the children."

"Our superintendent's duty as a general manager is to remain at headquarters to receive the reports, whether adverse or not, of the superintendents beneath him on the progress of the children in education. He should help the officers solve their problems and keep within his hand the complete control of our school system, carry out their wishes and orders. After carefully studying the sections in regard to the duties of our superintendent as prescribed by these new rules, it seems to me that any person on our civil service list could fill the office. He needs no college education, no knowledge of teaching, no executive ability, just the ability to drive a car from school to school, interfere with the duties of others, to back our school system as consistently as possible and make endless reports, which according to the change in section 20, chapter 3 says, 'the superintendent must not enter into discussions' he will never be allowed to make."

"In consideration of this and other unfairness in the rules, I make the motion that a public hearing be held before the adoption of these rules to give an opportunity to our paid experts to express their views upon the proposed changes of the rules of the school board affecting their status."

Mr. Delaney Heard

At this point Mr. Delaney asked the privilege of making a statement and said: "At the last regular meeting of the board I was reported to have said that Mr. Foster, the agent of the Sun-Lowell Shops and also an official of the New England Telephone Co. had criticized the commercial department of the high school. I made no such statement for neither Mr. Foster nor the telephone official has criticized the commercial department of the school as far as I know. This statement concerning me was made with malice and to injure me. I want this to appear in the records." At the close of the meeting Mr. Delaney told The Sun man that if he had made the statement he did not mean it.

Mr. M. Delaney stated that he recalled the incident and said the names of the two business men mentioned had been linked with the statement.

The discussion then shifted to the permanent substitute teachers for the high school and Mr. Bruin moved that the assignment to the high school made by the superintendent be not approved as it places in the high school one who was elected third at a meeting of the board, and that it is the intent of the board that the names of substitute teachers for permanent work be taken in order of their election. Mr. Mullin moved an amendment that two permanent teachers be elected. Both amendment and motion were defeated. Mr. Mullin then moved that one teacher be elected for the high school and this motion was also defeated. The motion of Mr. Delaney that Miss Conway be elected a permanent teacher at the high school was also killed. At 12:30 o'clock adjournment was taken.

Another I. W. W. Defendant Surrenders

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 19.—A. E. Anderson walked into the sheriff's office here yesterday and announced that he had come all the way from Siberia to surrender and serve a term of from one to fourteen years in San Quentin penitentiary. Anderson and nine other Industrial Workers of the World were convicted of criminal syndicalism. All were released on bail, pending appeal which since has been denied by the third district court of appeals. Anderson is the sixth of the defendants to surrender.

Veteran Methodist Minister Drops Dead

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—Rev. James H. Robinson, who retired from the Methodist Episcopal ministry 10 years ago, dropped dead last night in the South station when about to board a train to return to the home of his son in Quincy where he had been spending the summer. He was born in Newark, N. Y., 82 years ago and held pastorates in Troy, N. Y., and Stamford, Brandon, Vergennes and Poultney, Vt.

Town of Trinity Wiped Out by Fire

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Sept. 19.—The town of Trinity, a community of between 30 and 40 houses was wiped out, and a strip of from two to five miles wide between the towns of Kenwood and El Verano laid waste by a forest and brush fire during the past two days, according to advices received here from the fire zone early today. Fifteen highway bridges between Santa Rosa and Glen Ellen, near the Valley of the Moon were destroyed by the flames. Ranches, farm houses, crops and gardens were wiped out.

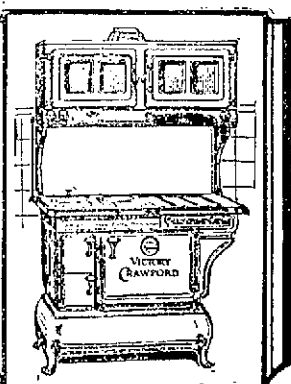

The Eskimo started it— The Crawford perfected it!

THE ESKIMOS, having no firewood, had to cook their food in soap-stone kettles over seal-oil lamps. Live cooking flame was thus, for the first time, concentrated on the cooking dish in order to use all the heat in the most efficient way.

In the Victory Crawford today you'll find this ancient principle of cookery perfected. Twenty years ago no one would have believed that so much of the active heat of cooking flame could be used so efficiently.

The Victory uses coal or wood or gas, as fuel. It has a coal oven, two gas ovens, and the Crawford Adjustable Broiler—smokeless, fumeless, clean, convenient.

An Eskimo would marvel at this range—in black or gray enamel; in two sizes, 43 in. or 37 in. long. But you needn't be an Eskimo to marvel—come in and see it today.

This is the Victory Crawford in gray enamel finish, so easy to keep clean. It is also finished in black.

OUT OUR WAY

THE OLD CROSSING WATCHMAN CAME HOME WITHOUT HIS PIPE THE OTHER EVENING SO HE SENT HIS YOUNGEST BOY DOWN AFTER IT.

This Little World

BY MILTON BRONNER
N.E.A. Service Writer
LONDON, Sept. 18.—Israel Alexander Symonds, one of the senior magistrates of London, died the other day, and with his passing there disappeared the successful lawyer who gave up his practice to go on the bench and earn the sobriquet of "The Solomon of South London." Keen, kindly and witty, many of his shrewd comments have been treasured by the attorneys who practiced in his court. Here are a few:

"Nagging is the constant regeneration of unpleasant truths."

"If some women were better cooks there would be fewer domestic squabbles for courts to settle."

"There is always a chance for the good joke."

"After the wife, the husband is the most important person in the household."

"Good housewives and good mothers are sure to have sharp tongues."

"Any man can talk a woman over if he tries."

As illustrating his human sympathies, they tell many stories. This is one of the best:

A poor woman without money or friends was clearly convicted of an offense. The law left the magistrate no option. He had to sentence her. So he pronounced judgment—no day in jail. As the prisoner was being led away, he beckoned to the officer and said in a half-whisper:

"Make it a short day, Mr. Jailor."

All parliamentary France is excited. Aristide Briand—who, as prime minister came over to the Washington disarmament conference—has had his long iron-gray locks cut.

Somebody turned back the pages of French history, studied them for a time, and then gravely announced:

"Every time Briand has his hair cut, he's been on the eve of taking supreme power in a French cabinet."

This was reported to the ex-premier, who pointed to the thermometer.

"What does it say?" he queried.

"Ninety-five."

"That's the answer to the mystery of the hair cut. It's Fahrenheit rather than Centigrade that has been troubling me."

Maybe it's because I never traveled in the tropics, and maybe they wanted to pull my leg, I was sitting in a little Fleet street restaurant and my table companions began talking about monkeys.

Said one of these blooming Britons:

"I once lived on a plantation where the owner had trained a monkey to climb the coconut tree and gather the nuts."

Said the second B. B.: "Out in China where I lived the Chinks have trained monkeys to pull rickshaws and gather the nuts."

Said the third B. B.: "In Abyssinia the native swells have monkeys as torch-bearers at their supper parties."

Said the fourth B. B.: "The station-master at Uitenhage, Cape Colony, has trained a baboon to act as signalman and work the switches."

"Waiter," I rasped, "bring my bill, and no monkey business."

If you can achieve the glory of getting up to the "tea bar" in the House of Commons, you may ask the waitress for a Lady Astor and a Sir Frederick. The Lady Astor isn't a cocktail. It's simply ginger ale. The Sir Frederick is a Banbury cake. Sir Frederick Banbury is Lady Astor's pet aversion.

YOUR AIR INTAKE

Rhinitis is an inflammation affecting the mucous membrane of the nose. It occurs in both acute and chronic forms. The acute or catarrhal form of this inflammation is termed "coryza." It is probably the most prevalent and common of all human ills. You have had it, you may have it now, but whether or no—you will have it. Acute coryza is nothing more than a cold in the head.

No Cause for Worry

The inflammation may extend to the throat and cause additional trouble. An attack of coryza sometimes results in partial or temporary deafness due to the blocking of the eustachian tube. This tube merely functions to equalize air pressure on the inner ear. It is nothing to worry about.

The treatment consists of large and frequent doses of good fresh air. A second step in the treatment is another double dose of the same thing. This medicine is free and will never do you any harm.

Root Germ Army

Drink plenty of water. Keep the bowels open and take a brisk walk. Aspirin taken upon going to bed coupled with the drinking of some hot liquid will make you perspire. This will throw the ranks of germs into disorder and usually in full retreat.

We may now take into consideration some of the preventive measures for avoiding coryza. Don't bundle up like an Eskimo, but wear just enough clothing to keep you warm. Should you get your feet wet, change shoes and stockings as soon as possible.

Colds are easily transmitted, sometimes affecting a whole family at once. Keep away from people who have a cold. People who sneeze and cough should be avoided.

Exercise Necessary

Above all, remember this: Your resistance tells the tale. People who are thoroughly removes all dust, dirt and dandruff from the hair, leaving a clean, healthy scalp. The brilliant, wavy appearance obtained is due to the scientific proportioning of coconut oil, which softens the hair and stimulates the roots into greater activity. GOURAUD'S Oriental Coconut Oil Shampoo is so far superior that the difference is noticeable at once.

The name "Gouraud" is backed by over 50 years of public confidence. GOURAUD'S Oriental Cream, GOURAUD'S Oriental Soap, GOURAUD'S Oriental Cold Cream and GOURAUD'S Oriental Hair Oil are world-wide fame through exceptional merit.

The Operation I Avoided—

IF there is one thing more than another a woman dreads, it is a surgical operation, and to be told that one is necessary is very disheartening.

Hospitals are grand institutions, and undoubtedly many operations are necessary. However, we have received hundreds of letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation had been deemed advisable.

Every woman who suffers as Mrs. Coffman did naturally wishes to avoid an operation if possible, and the remarkable statements which she makes in her letter will be read with interest by women everywhere.

Mrs. Coffman's Letter Follows:

SIOUX FALLS, ILLINOIS.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side which was noticeable at all times but sometimes it was almost unbearable and I could not even get the bed-clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years but not so badly until the last 18 months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help and the doctor told me that an operation was all there was left for me. I would not consent to that so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden when my two little girls reach womanhood I shall advise them to take it."

MRS. IDA M. COFFMAN, R. R. No. 2, Sioux Falls, Illinois.

Another Operation Avoided

CORONA, N. Y.—"I had a terrible pain in my left side and had to go to bed every so often. Doctors had told me I must be operated on, but I do not believe in the knife and would rather suffer than go through it. My mother also did not believe in it and she made me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because it had helped her. It has also helped me for I am better and am able to do all my work. I recommend your medicine and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—MRS. J. BUSCH, JR., 11 S. Railroad Ave., Corona, N. Y.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"The End of a Perfect Troupe," which Cressy and Dayne are playing at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, is typical of Mr. Cressy, who is the author of it. With a scene in the foothills of the White mountains, there plays through it some of the kindest of humor. It is well pointed, too, and altogether, it lives up to the reputation Mr. Cressy has scored with his other playlets. Claude & Marion, who are still arguing, make a splendid second lead for the bill, while Lloyd and Goode are blackface mikes and dancers of more than ordinary ability. Great Howard, ventriloquist, is nothing if not original in his work, and Adams & Lilian put forth music, plus personality. The bill opens with Blair & Pennington in a mixture of several things. Jack Pickford in "Garrison's Finish" will interest those who like a picture filled with snap and dash. The racing scenes are especially good.

THE STRAND

Lovers of the better class of photoplays will find extreme pleasure in the bill being presented at the Strand in the last time today. "Mothers-in-Law" is a drama that has sufficient humor attached to it to make it greatly enjoyed by all. The bill opens with Blair & Pennington in a mixture of several things. Jack Pickford in "Garrison's Finish" will interest those who like a picture filled with snap and dash. The racing scenes are especially good.

"The Girl of the Golden West," a stage play that made fame for itself and those who engaged in its presentation, recently adapted to the screen, with J. Warren Kerrigan, Sylvia Brimmer, Rosemary Theby and others employed. The bill opens with Blair & Pennington in a mixture of several things. Jack Pickford in "Garrison's Finish" will interest those who like a picture filled with snap and dash. The racing scenes are especially good.

combined efforts are truly meritorious. Don't miss this most unusual picture. "The Girl of the Golden West" will be the second feature, and this also is the kind of picture entertainment that will please all. It's a great bill, one of the best of the year. A comedy will help give variety to it.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Do you know what a Minute Man is? Now don't go back into Revolutionary history to pick out these two words. For a Minute Man of 1776 and a Minute Man of this ultra-modern year of 1923 are two entirely different propositions. The explanation comes in one of the most amusing moments of the great comedy drama, "Six Cylinder Love," which the Al. Luntzinger stock players are presenting at the Opera House this week. When Douro, the automobile salesman, glibly states that "a Minute Man is a sucker who buys a car when he can't afford it, and he's called that because there's one born every minute."

ROYAL THEATRE

"You Can't Fool Your Wife," said George Steiford, and to prove this assertion has created a production, in which marital difficulties based on a story of intrigue and jealousy. A splendid cast casts the principal roles. We have Leatrice Joy and Lewis Stone in the leads, while Nita Naldi personally adds the spice to the plot. As a counter-attraction, "Without Benefit of Clergy," a kipling product, is the piece de resistance. Here we have a different sort of a tale, written by a celebrated author, and treating with life, very much as it is lived in far-away lands. Lloyd Hamilton will sustain the comedy end of the program, while a Fox News will open up the performance. Unquestionably, one of the very best programs in Lowell for Wednesday and Thursday and at prices which suit the pocketbook.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

Long List of Claims Approved at Last Night's Meeting

Harry Doherty's Claim for Legal Expenses Included in List Approved

Claims Sanctioned by Council Totaled Over $2500—Routine Business

Included in a list of claims approved last night by the city council upon recommendation of the special claims committee was one allowing Harry Doherty, superintendent of streets, $75 for legal expenses incurred by him in 1922 on the occasion of his removal from office by a board of public service appointed by the then mayor. The passage of these claims, totalling more than $2500, was the only matter of business outside of routine channels.

Pres. Gallagher called the council to order at 8:30 o'clock. There was a bare quorum of eight members present—Councilors Cosgrove, McFadden, Genest, Chadwick, Lambert, Gallagher and Hennessey. Councilors Sadler, Fitzgerald and Moriarty came in later. The following names were drawn from the jury box to serve as traverse jurors at a superior court session, by Councilor Cosgrove:

Ten petitions for garage and gasoline licenses were assigned for hearing on Oct. 18.

The annual report of the board of health for 1922 was accepted and placed on file.

The David Ziskind Co. petitioned the council to lay a spur track across Tanner street, but an motion of Councilor Cosgrove, the matter was laid on the table and a committee of three councilors appointed to further investigate it.

Councilor Moriarty, reporting for the committee on claims, recommended that the claims of the following petitioners be given leave to withdraw: Rose Woods, Margaret Smith, John Crowe, William Santanone, Robert Pincus, John J. Shunkin and Chas. P. Clarke.

BIG DEMAND FOR STAMPS

Postmaster Delisle Reports Steady Demand for Harding Memorial Stamps

A steady demand for the Harding Memorial two-cent stamp has been made at the main post office and the various sub-stations since they first were put on sale Saturday. Only 10,000 of these stamps have been received as yet and the postmaster stated today that only a few of these remain on hand. A second consignment of 50,000 of these stamps is expected within a few days and this number will amply satisfy the local demand.

Postmaster Delisle said this morning that there seems to be a mistaken impression in the minds of many local people concerning these stamps. A great many people think the memorial two-cent stamp cannot be used on mail and others think that it costs more than two cents. This is a mistaken impression for the two-cent stamp is good for two cents postage on any kind of mail in this country and it costs but two cents.

NO LIABILITY ON THE PART OF THE TOWN

Although the bid of $636.50 presented to the Town of Tyngsboro by Chief Edward F. Saunders of the Lowell fire department for damages to a pumping engine of the local department sustained while the piece of apparatus was being used at the Vesper Country club house, will not be disposed of until the chief returns from his vacation, City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds today said as the bill stands he sees no liability on the part of the town. He has not been asked to give an opinion on the matter, but correspondence in the controversy now is on his desk and likely he will be called to settle it eventually.

It is the contention of the chief that inasmuch as the piece of apparatus went out of commission while fighting a fire in Tyngsboro and was being used on request of the town authorities, the town is liable. The amount of $636.50 is the cost of repairs upon the apparatus.
